

HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

SPENCER COOPER, Owner and Editor.

Devoted to the Development of Eastern Kentucky.

$1.00 A YEAR, Always in Advance.

VOL. III.

HAZEL GREEN, WOLFE COUNTY, KY., FRIDAY JANUARY 20, 1888.

NO. 46.

ISAAC W. MAPEL,
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND REAL ESTATE AGENT,
HAZEL GREEN, KY.
Will practice in all the Courts of Wolfe, Powell, Monroe and Breathitt counties.
Titles examined; abstracts furnished; taxes paid for non-residents; real estate bought and sold. Collections a specialty.

JOHN H. EVANS,

HAZEL GREEN, KY.
Examiner of Deposits
for Wolfe county,

Respectfully solicits the patronage of the public, and will attend promptly to all business entrusted to his care.

W. T. SWANGO,
HAZEL GREEN, KY.,
Deputy County Court Clerk of Wolfe,
Will attend to all business entrusted to him with promptness and dispatch.

BAKER & BACK,
Attorneys-at-Law,
A. C. BAKER] JACKSON,
J. C. BACK] BREATHITT COUNTY, KENTUCKY.

J. O. C. LYKINS,

County Attorney, Real Estate Agent and Notary Public!
Practices in all Courts in Wolfe and Adjoining Counties, and Court of Appeals.
Collections a Specialty.
CAMPTON, WOLFE COUNTY, KY.

D. R. J. A. TAULBEE, Physician and Surgeon, Hazel Green, Wolfe County, KENTUCKY.

GEO. E. WHITT, of Elliott County,
Henry Knoefel & Co.,
415 W. Market St., Lexington, Ky.,
Solicits the patronage of Eastern Kentucky
for Blank Books, Blanks, &c.

PIERATT HOUSE,
P. A. T. Pieratt, Proprietor,
FREDERICKSBURG COUNTY, KY.

The house is new and newly furnished
throughout. Fare first-class and charges reasonable. Sample room furnished commercial men. Good stable in connection, and special care given to horses. A few stores will be found a general
stock of merchandise at lowest prices.
Stop at my hotel and buy goods at my store, if you wish to save money.

COMBS HOUSE,
CAMPTON, KY.
S. S. COMBS, PROPRIETOR.

The patronage of the traveling public is respectfully solicited. Table the best, and every attention for the comfort of guests.

J. R. TUGGLE,
WITH
F. G. Ringgold & Co.,
JEWELERS OF

Boots and Shoes,
95 and 97 WEST PEARL STREET,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

I have located a small will keep on hand a nice line
of Clocks, Jewelry and Watches. Also a fine line of Spectacles and Eye-glasses. Will sell goods at city price and credit extended. Requesting a special and work warranted.
Respectfully, &c., T. F. CARR.

H. J. CLARKE,
WITH Sievers-Carson

HARDWARE CO.

637 West Main Street,
LOUISVILLE.

Abe Bloch & Co.,
Manufacturers and Wholesale Dealers in Men's, Youths', Boys' and Children's

CLOTHING
122 Vine Street,
Cincinnati, O.

4204

How you may get THE HERALD without out money—Bring us:
Twenty pounds of pork; or Two pounds of pork sausage; or Two bushels of sound Irish potatoes; or Five bushels of sound turnips; or Ten good chickens; or Ten pounds of good lard; or
One bushel of good onions.
Any person bringing us any of the above in the quantity named will receive the paper until January 20, 1889; for half the quantity we will send it half the time.

ALL OVER THE WORLD IN A WEEK.

We clip the following batch of news items from the new Bell County paper, the Pineville Messenger: County Clerk Shaffer's recent sale to Col. Phipps of Mt.
Sterling, was one of the most important events last year in the Bell county. The transaction embraced fifty acres of Cumberland river bottom land at $150 an acre and 610 acres of mountain land at $20 an acre.
He also sold Longline & Young twenty-five acres of bottom land at $150 an acre. Those gentlemen are evidently good judges of the value of property in this section of the world, and are willing to pay for it....The recent purchase of 1,200 acres of land by the English syndicate from John Meader, near Cumberland Gap, for $36,500, was an interesting transaction in buried wealth.
This tract sold several years ago for $1,500,
and two years ago it was valued at $1,000,
as an agricultural tract, and for the timber it contained. It was considered one of the most valuable farms in Bell county, but its mineral worth cut no figure in its valuation.
....The Pineville high school has an attendance of eighty scholars....Two new banks, with a capital stock of $50,000 each, will begin business at Pineville this month. Several men of Mt. Sterling men are interested in one of them....The county court has appropriated $25,000 to build a court house and jail for Bell county, and bids advertised for....
The Pine Mountain Iron and Coal Co. are building an elegant three story hotel, which will be ready for guests March 1st....The Valley Branch of the L. & N. railroad is completed to Barboursville and cars making regular trips to that place. Tracks have been laid to within ten miles of Pineville, and trains will be running there in a few weeks.
....A telephone line has been established between Barboursville and Pineville.

A few years ago the section referred to in the above notes was known only as a portion of Southeastern Kentucky. Now, the above indicates, it is a place of such importance. So far as we can learn, the people can now form some idea of the property that would come to us with the building of railroad to Hazel Green, and they should be prepared to act on any proposition.

Henry Knoefel & Co.,
415 W. Market St., Lexington, Ky.,
Solicits the patronage of Eastern Kentucky
for Blank Books, Blanks, &c.

PIERATT HOUSE,
P. A. T. Pieratt, Proprietor,
FREDERICKSBURG COUNTY, KY.

The house is new and newly furnished
throughout. Fare first-class and charges
reasonable. Sample room furnished commercial men. Good stable in connection,
and special care given to horses. A few stores will be found a general
stock of merchandise at lowest prices.
Stop at my hotel and buy goods at my store, if you wish to save money.

C. COMBS HOUSE,
CAMPTON, KY.
S. S. COMBS, PROPRIETOR.

The patronage of the traveling public is respectfully solicited. Table the best, and every attention for the comfort of guests.

J. R. TUGGLE,
WITH
F. G. Ringgold & Co.,
JEWELERS OF

Boots and Shoes,
95 and 97 WEST PEARL STREET,
CINCINNATI, OHIO.

I have located
a small will keep on hand a nice line
of Clocks, Jewelry and Watches. Also a fine line of Spectacles and Eye-glasses. Will sell goods at city price and credit extended. Requesting a special and work warranted.
Respectfully, &c., T. F. CARR.

H. J. CLARKE,
WITH Sievers-Carson

HARDWARE CO.

637 West Main Street,
LOUISVILLE.

Abe Bloch & Co.,
Manufacturers and Wholesale Dealers in Men's, Youths', Boys' and Children's

CLOTHING
122 Vine Street,
Cincinnati, O.

4204

Gov. Gray, of Indiana, has been endorsed by the Democracy of that state as his candidate for Vice President.
A fire at Columbus, O., last week destroyed $40,000 worth of dogs and $30,000 worth of poultry which was on exhibition in the burned building.

Walter Chambers, a brakeman, of Nashville, fell from a running train at Crofton, Ky., on Thursday of last week, and sustained injuries which necessitated the amputation of an arm.

The snow storm Friday was the most severe ever experienced in the Northwest. At St. Paul, Minn., railroad travel was almost abandoned. At other points stage coaches disappeared in the storm, and some of them are still missing.
The wind blew at the rate of sixty miles an hour.

Mattie Layne, a young lady of Christian county, recently underwent a dangerous operation in having her right leg amputated between the ankle and the knee. It was a curious case. Six months ago her foot began swelled, and grew worse until the pain was such as threatened her with lock-jaw.

A Western paper would say, "Her leg was sawed off between the garter and the ground."

All the printers on the Louisville Times and the Courier-Journal, both operated by the same management, went on a strike Friday, on account of the introduction of "rat" printers to operate the "line-otypes," machines introduced to lessen the process of composition.

The printers inaugurated a boycott, and the city council withdrew its patronage from both papers, but they continue to be published.
Not looking so well, however, as formerly.

The Georgetown Times recently made a good point when it said that Whenever Gov. Buckner refuses to pardon the pistol packer his crown of glory is complete.

We feel sure that the non-enforcement of the imprisonment clause of the "concealed deadly weapon" law has caused the shedding of a good deal of blood in our State. The fine is quite a small thing with the pistol packer, but if he should be sent to jail it would take the stinging out of him —Danville Advocate.

A two year old heifer, owned by Samuel Jones, was lost one month ago.
It was found a few days since in a straw stack on his farm six miles from Montpelier, Ind. It had lain there twenty-three days without water or food, except such as the straw prison afforded. The animal was enraged when found, but is recovering from its enforced fast rapidly.

What boarding house beef she would have made, and how grateful would have been the hotel keepers for a cut from her carcass. La, la, Mr. Jones, you make a mistake in not putting her on the market.

At the semi-centennial celebration of the founding of the present common school system in Kentucky on the 16th of February at Frankfort, Gov. Buskirk and Hon. W. E. Bullock, author of the school law, will respond. The surviving ex-Superintendents are also expected to be present.

Congressman W. C. P. Brockbridge, Judge
Wm. Lindsey, Senator Berry and others will deliver addresses upon education.

Every man in Eastern Kentucky interested in education, who can do so, should attend the above meeting, and we hope our county will send a good delegation.

Great excitement prevails in Rome, owing to the receipt of official news from Massawou to the effect that King Menelik of Sheba and Mahometan Gallus have settled their little difficulties and announced their intention of joining forces with King John against the invading Italians. Gallus is particularly feared owing to his mounted force, which is said to be forty thousand strong. Interviewed at Cairo, Sir Gerald Portal, who had just returned from the camp of Negus,
after the failure of his mission of peace, said that the King without counting his wives can put into the field fifty thousand men armed with modern repeating rifles and as many more irregulars.

Both houses of the Mississippi Legislature last week adopted the following: Resolved, That we view with profound gratification and pride the act of the President of the United States in nominating our distinguished fellow-citizen, Hon.
L. Q. Lamar, to a seat on the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States; that in Mr. Lamar we recognize a man of broad and comprehensive views, a profound scholar, a grand lawyer and statesman, and a man whose exalted patriotism commands the admiration of the American people.

A joint invitation from both Houses was extended to Hon. Jefferson Davis and family to visit Jackson during the session of the Legislature, and asking him to address both bodies.

In the Kentucky Legislature
there is a bill pending to create a Common Please Court district embracing the counties of Laurel, Whitley, Knox, Bell, Harlan and Perry and Leslie. The bill will probably pass....Senator Gillett, Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, to whom committee a resolution had been referred inquiring whether Rowan county could be abolished, reported Friday that such action could be had without violation of the Constitution.

....Senator Alford has introduced a bill requesting the counties to pay one half the expense of caring for their pauper idiots.

In the House Representative Settle introduced the same bill, and one providing that each county shall furnish and pay for its record books....Senator Plank introduced a bill for the benefit of Frank Preston, committee of Daniel Sparks, a harmless and incurable lunatic, On, claim on. The Committee on Courts of Justice in the Senate has before it an important matter which originated in the House in a joint resolution, introduced by Mr. Cook, making inquiry as to proper fees to be charged by court officials.

Mr. Cook made the complaint that no two officers in Kentucky taxed litigants the same in similar cases. When the resolution
came up in the Senate, it was debated at considerable length, and finally referred to the Committee on Courts of Justice, with instructions to report a bill making as to
proper fees to be charged by court officials.

Mr. Cook made the complaint that no two
officers in Kentucky taxed litigants the
same in similar cases. When the resolution
came up in the Senate, it was debated at
considerable length, and finally referred to
the Committee on Courts of Justice, with
instructions to report a bill making as to
proper fees to be charged by court officials.

Mr. Cook made the complaint that no two
officers in Kentucky taxed litigants the
same in similar cases. When the resolution
came up in the Senate, it was debated at
considerable length, and finally referred to
the Committee on Courts of Justice, with
instructions to report a bill making as to
proper fees to be charged by court officials.

Mr. Cook made the complaint that no two
officers in Kentucky taxed litigants the
same in similar cases. When the resolution
came up in the Senate, it was debated at
considerable length, and finally referred to
the Committee on Courts of Justice, with
instructions to report a bill making as to
proper fees to be charged by court officials.

Mr. Cook made the complaint that no two
officers in Kentucky taxed litigants the
same in similar cases. When the resolution
came up in the Senate, it was debated at
considerable length, and finally referred to
the Committee on Courts of Justice, with
instructions to report a bill making as to
proper fees to be charged by court officials.

Mr. Cook made the complaint that no two
officers in Kentucky taxed litigants the
same in similar cases. When the resolution
came up in the Senate, it was debated at
considerable length, and finally referred to
the Committee on Courts of Justice, with
instructions to report a bill making as to
proper fees to be charged by court officials.

Mr. Cook made the complaint that no two
officers in Kentucky taxed litigants the
same in similar cases. When the resolution
came up in the Senate, it was debated at
considerable length, and finally referred to
the Committee on Courts of Justice, with
instructions to report a bill making as to
proper fees to be charged by court officials.

Mr. Cook made the complaint that no two
officers in Kentucky taxed litigants the
same in similar cases. When the resolution
came up in the Senate, it was debated at
considerable length, and finally referred to
the Committee on Courts of Justice, with
instructions to report a bill making as to
proper fees to be charged by court officials.

Mr. Cook made the complaint that no two
officers in Kentucky taxed litigants the
same in similar cases. When the resolution
came up in the Senate, it was debated at
considerable length, and finally referred to
the Committee on Courts of Justice, with
instructions to report a bill making as to
proper fees to be charged by court officials.

Mr. Cook made the complaint that no two
officers in Kentucky taxed litigants the
same in similar cases. When the resolution
came up in the Senate, it was debated at
considerable length, and finally referred to
the Committee on Courts of Justice, with
instructions to report a bill making as to
proper fees to be charged by court officials.

Mr. Cook made the complaint that no two
officers in Kentucky taxed litigants the
same in similar cases. When the resolution
came up in the Senate, it was debated at
considerable length, and finally referred to
the Committee on Courts of Justice, with
instructions to report a bill making as to
proper fees to be charged by court officials.

Mr. Cook made the complaint that no two
officers in Kentucky taxed litigants the
same in similar cases. When the resolution
came up in the Senate, it was debated at
considerable length, and finally referred to
the Committee on Courts of Justice, with
instructions to report a bill making as to
proper fees to be charged by court officials.

Mr. Cook made the complaint that no two
officers in Kentucky taxed litigants the
same in similar cases. When the resolution
came up in the Senate, it was debated at
considerable length, and finally referred to
the Committee on Courts of Justice, with
instructions to report a bill making as to
proper fees to be charged by court officials.

Mr. Cook made the complaint that no two
officers in Kentucky taxed litigants the
same in similar cases. When the resolution
came up in the Senate, it was debated at
considerable length, and finally referred to
the Committee on Courts of Justice, with
instructions to report a bill making as to
proper fees to be charged by court officials.

Mr. Cook made the complaint that no two
officers in Kentucky taxed litigants the
same in similar cases. When the resolution
came up in the Senate, it was debated at
considerable length, and finally referred to
the Committee on Courts of Justice, with
instructions to report a bill making as to
proper fees to be charged by court officials.

There was destroyed by fire in the United States last year, property to the value of $130,000,000.

Gen. Castlemaine having declined the position of Chief of Police of the city of Louisville, Thos. J. Wood has been appointed, but has not yet accepted.

Secretary Bayard telegraphed to the British Government a protest against the seizure of the nets of American fishermen by Canadian officials on the great lakes.

The U. S. Senate confirmed the nomination of Lamar as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Dickinson a Postmaster General, and Vilas as Secretary of the Interior.

At Memphis, Tenn., Monday, the ground was covered with ice to the depth of eight inches. Much suffering was exhibited among the poor, coal having advanced from sixty to seventy-five cents a barrel.

A double pig is the property of Thomas Ward, a farmer living near Fern, Ind. It has two heads, four eyes, four ears, two noses, eight legs, two tails, but only one body, making it, in fact, a very complete double pig.

Gov. Larabee and Lieutenant-ant-Governor Hull were inaugurated at Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 12. Gov. Larabee, in his inaugural address, strongly combated the doctrine of free trade, and urged the necessity of protection to American labor and manufactures.

A commercial man named Meser Raphael died at the London (Eng.) Hospital Saturday. A post-mortem examination revealed the fact that the man had been living for some time with three inches of a penholder in his brain. A pen was also attached to the holder.

late advices from the City of Mexico say that President Diaz and his Cabinet have announced that they will do all in their power to encourage and promote the immigration of Americans into Lower California, particularly into the lands of the International Company, whose head-quarters are at Ensenada.

It now transpires that the Forty-fourth Illinois Volunteer Infantry was never mustered out of the army, and a company, consisting of members of the regiment, has been appointed for the purpose of securing what action will be necessary to secure their back pay. The surviving members held a meeting at Covington last week.

Bishop Wm. H. Hicklen-poor died in Salt Lake, Utah, Jan. 14, aged eighty. He was the oldest Bishop in the Mormon Church, and for over forty years held the position now made vacant.

He had two wives, and at the time of his death his living posterity numbered twelve children, thirty-six grandchildren and fifty-two great-grandchildren.

George Walker, late Consul General of the United States in Paris, died of pneumonia at Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 14, at the age of 67. He was born in the sixtieth year of his age. In 1860 he was appointed by President Hayes Consul-General in Paris, and served in that capacity until last June,
when he tendered his resignation and returned to the United States.

The schooner William Parsons, which sailed for George's Banks Nov.
22 with 200 men, and the schooner Peter
D. Smith, which sailed Nov. 13th with a crew of twelve, have been given up for lost.
It is supposed they were wrecked in the heavy gales that swept the Banks a month ago. Many of the men had families, and five widows and nineteen children are left.

Sunday was a severely cold day in the Northwest. At Helena, 45°;
Omaha, 30°; Sioux City, 35°; Albert Lea,
40°; Bismarck, 38°; Bird Island, 38°; Faribault, 47°; Duluth, 34°; Clear Water, 45°.
Hundreds of persons were frozen to death.

The Pioneer (St. Paul) Press published one list containing the names of sixty-three victims, and was receiving additional names every hour....A revised list published by the Minneapolis Star shows ninety-seven dead in Dakota, thirteen in Minnesota, six in Iowa, seventeen in Nebraska and two in Montana, total 135, besides fifty-five missing.

The new bill to create a Territory of Oklahoma comes in with gilt-edge borders and roseate explanations; but it is, after all, the same old thing that we have known for so many sessions of Congress. It is a scheme to steal from the Indians the garden lands of the West, which the United States gave to them in perpetuity. We do not say that the theft will or ought to be permitted. We have long been of the impression that the Indian must yield to the cruel but inevitable law of the survival of the fittest. But, nevertheless, we ought not to be hypocrites about it. Let us frankly confess that the measure is a steal.—Ociosi nati Enquirer.

HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

SPENCER COOPER, Publisher.

HAZEL GREEN. - KENTUCKY

A SERENADE.

She sleeps, my lady sleep,
Let me steal softly through the dusky bower,
And while the fragrance of the climbing flower—

In at her casement slowly, gently creeps,
Let me below her happy window stand,
And touch your site with not a light a hand,
I do not wish that she should sleep.

I wist that through the window she should sleep,

From the balcony lean down to me,

Then strive, my love, with eager haste to see

Which shall outstrip—the climbing flower—

Seeking her window, or thy delicate strain

Seeking the same sweet goal, and gently faint

To wake her up! —

And yet—yet—and remember, this my love:
The world will give you when my lady fair,
And bring her to thy bosom when the sun is gone
To shine for me the evening's brightest star,
Remember this: I have no wish to wake
My lady's pa!

I prithee, dearest love, make no mistake;
Wake her, but let not thy soft strivings break
Her slumber. I would have no luckless bane Thrust from me; her wakings may mar

The morn's sun; it is said, I know,

Yet strive, dear love—I do entreat thee so—

To set for him a lullaby, for her

Repose, and for me a messenger;

But set not light enough round window breaks!

"Tis not the eve, when all the world is won;

But when the morn, the task is not yet done;

Seal with thy sweet permission, for our sakes,

Its gentle, fondly make, to keep

Her pa asleep!

—Harpers Weekly.

A GREAT BLUNDER.

It Was Dreadful But Then It Won a Bride.

Drunken Eph's Mistake, and the Profound Sensation It Created—An Editor's Life Endangered—The Happy Finale.

"Gentlemen," said the Western member of the group of newspaper men in the hotel rotunda, "I can't brag of any such sensational 'scoops' as you have been telling of for the last hour or so. My newspaper career has been rather of the humdrum order. I never camped on the trail of a county 'boodler.' I never reported a secret political meeting by crawling into the drum of a big stove and taking notes on what I overheard. I have never even solved the secret of a mysterious double murder. Hard work one day, drudging the second, unremitting toil the third—that's about the story of my life since I was the 'galley-boy' on an Omaha paper twenty-five years ago."

"But there was one romantic incident in my career—just one. It occurred when I won my wife through the ghastly blunder of 'Drunken Eph.' I was running a little evening paper in a Colorado mining town then. That was twelve years ago. 'Drunken Eph' was my right bower. I was editor-in-chief of the paper, managing editor, news editor, telegraph editor, sporting editor, business manager, cashier and book-keeper. I also occupied the responsible position of the salaried editor, and carried four routes of the paper and my other duties of the day were over."

Eph was city editor and the staff of reporters. Besides that he acted as foreman of the mechanical department, and when he wasn't engaged in filling his note-book with local items or his stomach with whisky he would put in his time sweeping at the slow composter or throwing em-quads at the wall. Eph was a genius and no mistake, and if it hadn't been for his habit of looking on the wine when it was red—or any other color—he might have lived to manage one of your Chicago papers today.

"But to tell you my story. One day I found myself head over heels in love. It all happened so quickly that it almost takes my breath away to think of it even now. She was a beauty—a dark-haired, dark-eyed, Greek-featured maiden—from somewhere in the South. I understand. Her father, ruined by the war, had moved out to Colorado to retrieve his fortunes at mining. Like many another adventurer, the poor man failed completely. Within two years after he entered Colorado he was in his grave, his daughter being left an orphan. She took the matter terribly to heart; but she was a plucky, high-spirited girl, and soon settled resolutely down to make her own living, which she did by keeping a small onion store. Well, I worshipped her at a distance, and it was a long time before I made up my mind to boldly seek her acquaintance, woo her, and lay my somewhat prosaic fortune at her feet. I delayed too long. Before I could begin my wooing—before I could even become acquainted with the lady—Charley Pate, a mulatto and a man-about-town, stepped in and married her. It was a hard blow for me. For about a week I sat aside a small portion of each day to weep. However, finding that blasphemy did no good, I tried to forget my sorrows by burying myself in such problems as how to make twenty dollars in cash pay forty dollars in printers' bills. I still continued to worship the woman afar off, albeit she was Mrs. Charles Pate. She didn't know Augustus Jewett, editor of the Evening Star, then; I used to meet her frequently on the street, but if she ever bestowed more than a passing glance upon me I never discovered the fact.

"Pate was killed one night—shot in a gambling house row. He was a clever fellow, well-known throughout that country, and, being a man of sportish tendencies, not at all unpopular.

"Eph," I said to my city editor and reporter's staff the night before the funeral was to occur, "give Pate a good send-off to-morrow. Lay it on thick."

"Half-column?" asked Eph, lazily.

"Half a column, nothing!" retorted I; "give him a column and a quarter. Write up the best eulogy you can. It'll boom our subscription list. Besides, he may be the deceased deserves it. Any way, do the funeral up in good shape."

"All right," said Eph; "I'll do that same—I'll make the people in these parts think they have had an angel in their midst all these years, and weren't aware of the fact until Ephriam Jones published it in the Silver Horn. Evening Star."

It was just 4:30 the next afternoon when the paper went to press. Eph had written up the funeral, doing it in first-class style, too, in spite of the fact that he was heavily loaded with liquor when he attended the obsequies. At 5:30 that afternoon I was sitting in my sanctum grinding out editorial copy for the morrow when I heard a knock at the door.

"Come in," I called.

"The hinges creaked. A figure stepped over the threshold. I gasped for breath. It was Mrs. Pate! I was at last face to face with my goddess."

"What does it mean?" I thought to myself. Very soon afterward I found out.

"Are you the editor?" asked Mrs. Pate, in a chilly tone, an expression of grim determination on her marble features, which never looked more beautiful to me than they did just at that moment.

"I am, madam," I replied, trying to appear calm. (I made a lamentable failure of it.)

"Then, sir," said my visitor, slowly, "may I ask you what you mean by insulting the memory of my dead husband?"

"'What!' I gasped, faintly, a sickening fear stealing over me. "Mrs. Pate, what do you mean?"

"Ah! I see you know my name," she replied, icily, a steely glitter in her black eyes. "May I repeat the question? What do you mean by trying to blacken the character of a man who is in his grave?"

"Really, I do not understand you, madam," I said. "I was not aware that my paper had in any way tried to injure your dead husband's reputation." (I had not yet seen a copy of that evening's Star.)

"See here, sir, she rejoined, perhaps you will understand me now, and she spread the paper before me.

"Read that," she said, pointing to the first column on the first page. "The article itself was all right, being a full account of the life, death and funeral of the late Mr. Pate. But its heading: 'Great loss!—It is heading! All is vanishing!'"

"It was city editor and the staff of reporters. Besides that he acted as foreman of the mechanical department, and when he wasn't engaged in filling his note-book with local items or his stomach with whisky he would put in his time sweeping at the slow composter or throwing em-quads at the wall. Eph was a genius and no mistake, and if it hadn't been for his habit of looking on the wine when it was red—or any other color—he might have lived to manage one of your Chicago papers today.

"But to tell you my story. One day I found myself head over heels in love. It all happened so quickly that it almost takes my breath away to think of it even now. She was a beauty—a dark-haired, dark-eyed, Greek-featured maiden—from somewhere in the South. I understand. Her father, ruined by the war, had moved out to Colorado to retrieve his fortunes at mining. Like many another adventurer, the poor man failed completely. Within two years after he entered Colorado he was in his grave, his daughter being left an orphan. She took the matter terribly to heart; but she was a plucky, high-spirited girl, and soon settled resolutely down to make her own living, which she did by keeping a small onion store. Well, I worshipped her at a distance, and it was a long time before I made up my mind to boldly seek her acquaintance, woo her, and lay my somewhat prosaic fortune at her feet. I delayed too long. Before I could begin my wooing—before I could even become acquainted with the lady—Charley Pate, a mulatto and a man-about-town, stepped in and married her. It was a hard blow for me. For about a week I sat aside a small portion of each day to weep. However, finding that blasphemy did no good, I tried to forget my sorrows by burying myself in such problems as how to make twenty dollars in cash pay forty dollars in printers' bills. I still continued to worship the woman afar off, albeit she was Mrs. Charles Pate. She didn't know Augustus Jewett, editor of the Evening Star, then; I used to meet her frequently on the street, but if she ever bestowed more than a passing glance upon me I never discovered the fact.

"Pate was killed one night—shot in a gambling house row. He was a clever fellow, well-known throughout that country, and, being a man of sportish tendencies, not at all unpopular.

"Eph," I said to my city editor and reporter's staff the night before the funeral was to occur, "give Pate a good send-off to-morrow. Lay it on thick."

"Half-column?" asked Eph, lazily.

"Half a column, nothing!" retorted I; "give him a column and a quarter. Write up the best eulogy you can. It'll boom our subscription list. Besides, he may be the deceased deserves it. Any way, do the funeral up in good shape."

"All right," said Eph; "I'll do that same—I'll make the people in these parts think they have had an angel in their midst all these years, and weren't aware of the fact until Ephriam Jones published it in the Silver Horn. Evening Star."

It was just 4:30 the next afternoon when the paper went to press. Eph had written up the funeral, doing it in first-class style, too, in spite of the fact that he was heavily loaded with liquor when he attended the obsequies. At 5:30 that afternoon I was sitting in my sanctum grinding out editorial copy for the morrow when I heard a knock at the door.

"Come in," I called.

"The hinges creaked. A figure stepped over the threshold. I gasped for breath. It was Mrs. Pate! I was at last face to face with my goddess."

"What does it mean?" I thought to myself. Very soon afterward I found out.

"Are you the editor?" asked Mrs. Pate, in a chilly tone, an expression of grim determination on her marble features, which never looked more beautiful to me than they did just at that moment.

"'What!' I gasped, faintly, a sickening fear stealing over me. "Mrs. Pate, what do you mean?"

"Ah! I see you know my name," she replied, icily, a steely glitter in her black eyes. "May I repeat the question? What do you mean by trying to blacken the character of a man who is in his grave?"

"Really, I do not understand you, madam," I said. "I was not aware that my paper had in any way tried to injure your dead husband's reputation." (I had not yet seen a copy of that evening's Star.)

"See here, sir, she rejoined, perhaps you will understand me now, and she spread the paper before me.

"Read that," she said, pointing to the first column on the first page. "The article itself was all right, being a full account of the life, death and funeral of the late Mr. Pate. But its heading: 'Great loss!—It is heading! All is vanishing!'"

"It was city editor and the staff of reporters. Besides that he acted as foreman of the mechanical department, and when he wasn't engaged in filling his note-book with local items or his stomach with whisky he would put in his time sweeping at the slow composter or throwing em-quads at the wall. Eph was a genius and no mistake, and if it hadn't been for his habit of looking on the wine when it was red—or any other color—he might have lived to manage one of your Chicago papers today.

"But to tell you my story. One day I found myself head over heels in love. It all happened so quickly that it almost takes my breath away to think of it even now. She was a beauty—a dark-haired, dark-eyed, Greek-featured maiden—from somewhere in the South. I understand. Her father, ruined by the war, had moved out to Colorado to retrieve his fortunes at mining. Like many another adventurer, the poor man failed completely. Within two years after he entered Colorado he was in his grave, his daughter being left an orphan. She took the matter terribly to heart; but she was a plucky, high-spirited girl, and soon settled resolutely down to make her own living, which she did by keeping a small onion store. Well, I worshipped her at a distance, and it was a long time before I made up my mind to boldly seek her acquaintance, woo her, and lay my somewhat prosaic fortune at her feet. I delayed too long. Before I could begin my wooing—before I could even become acquainted with the lady—Charley Pate, a mulatto and a man-about-town, stepped in and married her. It was a hard blow for me. For about a week I sat aside a small portion of each day to weep. However, finding that blasphemy did no good, I tried to forget my sorrows by burying myself in such problems as how to make twenty dollars in cash pay forty dollars in printers' bills. I still continued to worship the woman afar off, albeit she was Mrs. Charles Pate. She didn't know Augustus Jewett, editor of the Evening Star, then; I used to meet her frequently on the street, but if she ever bestowed more than a passing glance upon me I never discovered the fact.

"Pate was killed one night—shot in a gambling house row. He was a clever fellow, well-known throughout that country, and, being a man of sportish tendencies, not at all unpopular.

"Eph," I said to my city editor and reporter's staff the night before the funeral was to occur, "give Pate a good send-off to-morrow. Lay it on thick."

"Half-column?" asked Eph, lazily.

"Half a column, nothing!" retorted I; "give him a column and a quarter. Write up the best eulogy you can. It'll boom our subscription list. Besides, he may be the deceased deserves it. Any way, do the funeral up in good shape."

"All right," said Eph; "I'll do that same—I'll make the people in these parts think they have had an angel in their midst all these years, and weren't aware of the fact until Ephriam Jones published it in the Silver Horn. Evening Star."

It was just 4:30 the next afternoon when the paper went to press. Eph had written up the funeral, doing it in first-class style, too, in spite of the fact that he was heavily loaded with liquor when he attended the obsequies. At 5:30 that afternoon I was sitting in my sanctum grinding out editorial copy for the morrow when I heard a knock at the door.

"Come in," I called.

"The hinges creaked. A figure stepped over the threshold. I gasped for breath. It was Mrs. Pate! I was at last face to face with my goddess."

"What does it mean?" I thought to myself. Very soon afterward I found out.

"Are you the editor?" asked Mrs. Pate, in a chilly tone, an expression of grim determination on her marble features, which never looked more beautiful to me than they did just at that moment.

"'What!' I gasped, faintly, a sickening fear stealing over me. "Mrs. Pate, what do you mean?"

"Ah! I see you know my name," she replied, icily, a steely glitter in her black eyes. "May I repeat the question? What do you mean by trying to blacken the character of a man who is in his grave?"

"Really, I do not understand you, madam," I said. "I was not aware that my paper had in any way tried to injure your dead husband's reputation." (I had not yet seen a copy of that evening's Star.)

"See here, sir, she rejoined, perhaps you will understand me now, and she spread the paper before me.

"Read that," she said, pointing to the first column on the first page. "The article itself was all right, being a full account of the life, death and funeral of the late Mr. Pate. But its heading: 'Great loss!—It is heading! All is vanishing!'"

"It was city editor and the staff of reporters. Besides that he acted as foreman of the mechanical department, and when he wasn't engaged in filling his note-book with local items or his stomach with whisky he would put in his time sweeping at the slow composter or throwing em-quads at the wall. Eph was a genius and no mistake, and if it hadn't been for his habit of looking on the wine when it was red—or any other color—he might have lived to manage one of your Chicago papers today.

"But to tell you my story. One day I found myself head over heels in love. It all happened so quickly that it almost takes my breath away to think of it even now. She was a beauty—a dark-haired, dark-eyed, Greek-featured maiden—from somewhere in the South. I understand. Her father, ruined by the war, had moved out to Colorado to retrieve his fortunes at mining. Like many another adventurer, the poor man failed completely. Within two years after he entered Colorado he was in his grave, his daughter being left an orphan. She took the matter terribly to heart; but she was a plucky, high-spirited girl, and soon settled resolutely down to make her own living, which she did by keeping a small onion store. Well, I worshipped her at a distance, and it was a long time before I made up my mind to boldly seek her acquaintance, woo her, and lay my somewhat prosaic fortune at her feet. I delayed too long. Before I could begin my wooing—before I could even become acquainted with the lady—Charley Pate, a mulatto and a man-about-town, stepped in and married her. It was a hard blow for me. For about a week I sat aside a small portion of each day to weep. However, finding that blasphemy did no good, I tried to forget my sorrows by burying myself in such problems as how to make twenty dollars in cash pay forty dollars in printers' bills. I still continued to worship the woman afar off, albeit she was Mrs. Charles Pate. She didn't know Augustus Jewett, editor of the Evening Star, then; I used to meet her frequently on the street, but if she ever bestowed more than a passing glance upon me I never discovered the fact.

"Pate was killed one night—shot in a gambling house row. He was a clever fellow, well-known throughout that country, and, being a man of sportish tendencies, not at all unpopular.

"Eph," I said to my city editor and reporter's staff the night before the funeral was to occur, "give Pate a good send-off to-morrow. Lay it on thick."

"Half-column?" asked Eph, lazily.

"Half a column, nothing!" retorted I; "give him a column and a quarter. Write up the best eulogy you can. It'll boom our subscription list. Besides, he may be the deceased deserves it. Any way, do the funeral up in good shape."

"All right," said Eph; "I'll do that same—I'll make the people in these parts think they have had an angel in their midst all these years, and weren't aware of the fact until Ephriam Jones published it in the Silver Horn. Evening Star."

It was just 4:30 the next afternoon when the paper went to press. Eph had written up the funeral, doing it in first-class style, too, in spite of the fact that he was heavily loaded with liquor when he attended the obsequies. At 5:30 that afternoon I was sitting in my sanctum grinding out editorial copy for the morrow when I heard a knock at the door.

"Come in," I called.

"The hinges creaked. A figure stepped over the threshold. I gasped for breath. It was Mrs. Pate! I was at last face to face with my goddess."

"What does it mean?" I thought to myself. Very soon afterward I found out.

"Are you the editor?" asked Mrs. Pate, in a chilly tone, an expression of grim determination on her marble features, which never looked more beautiful to me than they did just at that moment.

"'What!' I gasped, faintly, a sickening fear stealing over me. "Mrs. Pate, what do you mean?"

"Ah! I see you know my name," she replied, icily, a steely glitter in her black eyes. "May I repeat the question? What do you mean by trying to blacken the character of a man who is in his grave?"

"Really, I do not understand you, madam," I said. "I was not aware that my paper had in any way tried to injure your dead husband's reputation." (I had not yet seen a copy of that evening's Star.)

"See here, sir, she rejoined, perhaps you will understand me now, and she spread the paper before me.

"Read that," she said, pointing to the first column on the first page. "The article itself was all right, being a full account of the life, death and funeral of the late Mr. Pate. But its heading: 'Great loss!—It is heading! All is vanishing!'"

"It was city editor and the staff of reporters. Besides that he acted as foreman of the mechanical department, and when he wasn't engaged in filling his note-book with local items or his stomach with whisky he would put in his time sweeping at the slow composter or throwing em-quads at the wall. Eph was a genius and no mistake, and if it hadn't been for his habit of looking on the wine when it was red—or any other color—he might have lived to manage one of your Chicago papers today.

"But to tell you my story. One day I found myself head over heels in love. It all happened so quickly that it almost takes my breath away to think of it even now. She was a beauty—a dark-haired, dark-eyed, Greek-featured maiden—from somewhere in the South. I understand. Her father, ruined by the war, had moved out to Colorado to retrieve his fortunes at mining. Like many another adventurer, the poor man failed completely. Within two years after he entered Colorado he was in his grave, his daughter being left an orphan. She took the matter terribly to heart; but she was a plucky, high-spirited girl, and soon settled resolutely down to make her own living, which she did by keeping a small onion store. Well, I worshipped her at a distance, and it was a long time before I made up my mind to boldly seek her acquaintance, woo her, and lay my somewhat prosaic fortune at her feet. I delayed too long. Before I could begin my wooing—before I could even become acquainted with the lady—Charley Pate, a mulatto and a man-about-town, stepped in and married her. It was a hard blow for me. For about a week I sat aside a small portion of each day to weep. However, finding that blasphemy did no good, I tried to forget my sorrows by burying myself in such problems as how to make twenty dollars in cash pay forty dollars in printers' bills. I still continued to worship the woman afar off, albeit she was Mrs. Charles Pate. She didn't know Augustus Jewett, editor of the Evening Star, then; I used to meet her frequently on the street, but if she ever bestowed more than a passing glance upon me I never discovered the fact.

"Pate was killed one night—shot in a gambling house row. He was a clever fellow, well-known throughout that country, and, being a man of sportish tendencies, not at all unpopular.

"Eph," I said to my city editor and reporter's staff the night before the funeral was to occur, "give Pate a good send-off to-morrow. Lay it on thick."

"Half-column?" asked Eph, lazily.

"Half a column, nothing!" retorted I; "give him a column and a quarter. Write up the best eulogy you can. It'll boom our subscription list. Besides, he may be the deceased deserves it. Any way, do the funeral up in good shape."

"All right," said Eph; "I'll do that same—I'll make the people in these parts think they have had an angel in their midst all these years, and weren't aware of the fact until Ephriam Jones published it in the Silver Horn. Evening Star."

It was just 4:30 the next afternoon when the paper went to press. Eph had written up the funeral, doing it in first-class style, too, in spite of the fact that he was heavily loaded with liquor when he attended the obsequies. At 5:30 that afternoon I was sitting in my sanctum grinding out editorial copy for the morrow when I heard a knock at the door.

"Come in," I called.

"The hinges creaked. A figure stepped over the threshold. I gasped for breath. It was Mrs. Pate! I was at last face to face with my goddess."

"What does it mean?" I thought to myself. Very soon afterward I found out.

"Are you the editor?" asked Mrs. Pate, in a chilly tone, an expression of grim determination on her marble features, which never looked more beautiful to me than they did just at that moment.

"'What!' I gasped, faintly, a sickening fear stealing over me. "Mrs. Pate, what do you mean?"

"Ah! I see you know my name," she replied, icily, a steely glitter in her black eyes. "May I repeat the question? What do you mean by trying to blacken the character of a man who is in his grave?"

"Really, I do not understand you, madam," I said. "I was not aware that my paper had in any way tried to injure your dead husband's reputation." (I had not yet seen a copy of that evening's Star.)

"See here, sir, she rejoined, perhaps you will understand me now, and she spread the paper before me.

"Read that," she said, pointing to the first column on the first page. "The article itself was all right, being a full account of the life, death and funeral of the late Mr. Pate. But its heading: 'Great loss!—It is heading! All is vanishing!'"

"It was city editor and the staff of reporters. Besides that he acted as foreman of the mechanical department, and when he wasn't engaged in filling his note-book with local items or his stomach with whisky he would put in his time sweeping at the slow composter or throwing em-quads at the wall. Eph was a genius and no mistake, and if it hadn't been for his habit of looking on the wine when it was red—or any other color—he might have lived to manage one of your Chicago papers today.

"But to tell you my story. One day I found myself head over heels in love. It all happened so quickly that it almost takes my breath away to think of it even now. She was a beauty—a dark-haired, dark-eyed, Greek-featured maiden—from somewhere in the South. I understand. Her father, ruined by the war, had moved out to Colorado to retrieve his fortunes at mining. Like many another adventurer, the poor man failed completely. Within two years after he entered Colorado he was in his grave, his daughter being left an orphan. She took the matter terribly to heart; but she was a plucky, high-spirited girl, and soon settled resolutely down to make her own living, which she did by keeping a small onion store. Well, I worshipped her at a distance, and it was a long time before I made up my mind to boldly seek her acquaintance, woo her, and lay my somewhat prosaic fortune at her feet. I delayed too long. Before I could begin my wooing—before I could even become acquainted with the lady—Charley Pate, a mulatto and a man-about-town, stepped in and married her. It was a hard blow for me. For about a week I sat aside a small portion of each day to weep. However, finding that blasphemy did no good, I tried to forget my sorrows by burying myself in such problems as how to make twenty dollars in cash pay forty dollars in printers' bills. I still continued to worship the woman afar off, albeit she was Mrs. Charles Pate. She didn't know Augustus Jewett, editor of the Evening Star, then; I used to meet her frequently on the street, but if she ever bestowed more than a passing glance upon me I never discovered the fact.

"Pate was killed one night—shot in a gambling house row. He was a clever fellow, well-known throughout that country, and, being a man of sportish tendencies, not at all unpopular.

"Eph," I said to my city editor and reporter's staff the night before the funeral was to occur, "give Pate a good send-off to-morrow. Lay it on thick."

"Half-column?" asked Eph, lazily.

"Half a column, nothing!" retorted I; "give him a column and a quarter. Write up the best eulogy you can. It'll boom our subscription list. Besides, he may be the deceased deserves it. Any way, do the funeral up in good shape."

"All right," said Eph; "I'll do that same—I'll make the people in these parts think they have had an angel in their midst all these years, and weren't aware of the fact until Ephriam Jones published it in the Silver Horn. Evening Star."

It was just 4:30 the next afternoon when the paper went to press. Eph had written up the funeral, doing it in first-class style, too, in spite of the fact that he was heavily loaded with liquor when he attended the obsequies. At 5:30 that afternoon I was sitting in my sanctum grinding out editorial copy for the morrow when I heard a knock at the door.

"Come in," I called.

"The hinges creaked. A figure stepped over the threshold. I gasped for breath. It was Mrs. Pate! I was at last face to face with my goddess."

"What does it mean?" I thought to myself. Very soon afterward I found out.

"Are you the editor?" asked Mrs. Pate, in a chilly tone, an expression of grim determination on her marble features, which never looked more beautiful to me than they did just at that moment.

"'What!' I gasped, faintly, a sickening fear stealing over me. "Mrs. Pate, what do you mean?"

"Ah! I see you know my name," she replied, icily, a steely glitter in her black eyes. "May I repeat the question? What do you mean by trying to blacken the character of a man who is in his grave?"

"Really, I do not understand you, madam," I said. "I was not aware that my paper had in any way tried to injure your dead husband's reputation." (I had not yet seen a copy of that evening's Star.)

"See here, sir, she rejoined, perhaps you will understand me now, and she spread the paper before me.

"Read that," she said, pointing to the first column on the first page. "The article itself was all right, being a full account of the life, death and funeral of the late Mr. Pate. But its heading: 'Great loss!—It

HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

Subscription, $1 a Year,
Money to Accompany the Name.

SPENCER COOPER, : : EDITOR.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.:
FRIDAY, January 20, 1888.

People who have been accustomed to reading of the wonderful resources of the mountain counties, have doubtless many times wondered why they are placed in the paper list, and people who have read of the wonderful blue-grass section as a stock raising country, have been led to believe that there was to be found the finest horses and mules in the world. Proof herewith produced shows the latter to be a delusion. We confess that for a long time we labored under the hallucination, but from time to time have tried to impress upon our people the importance of raising a better grade of stock. In an humble way we have endeavored to point out to them our advantages, over the blue-grass country, for raising fine stock. It will appear from the following, taken at random from the report of the Board of Equalization issued for the year 1887, that our advice has been taken. Wolfe county raised and reported to the assessor for 1887 a better class of horses by $6.48 per head than Bourbon county, and Owsley county raised and reported to the assessor a better class of horses than did Montgomery, the difference in favor of the former county being $12.38 per head. Now, if these reports are made upon a proper estimate, and we presume they are, for every man must swear to the value of his stock, it is clearly demonstrated that the pauper mountain counties produce a better grade of stock than the pampered counties of the blue-grass, which if systematically pursued will soon relieve us of the stigma of pauperism. On the other hand, if the reports are not correct, somebody has resorted to bribery and helped to make us paupers. If pauper counties pay more tax than those reported prosperous, the reason of our poverty is apparent. Read this table. The left column represents the pride of the State, and the column on the right indicates "we paupers":

to the citizens of Frenchburg and Men's fee county, who in turn ought to give it a healthy and hearty support. The mountain people, we regret to say, do not take the interest in county papers they should, if they wish to build up the country, but we hope they may soon learn to do so. Here's success to the Courier, and prosperity to its proprietors.

A Washington special says: Speaker Carlisle has not been well for several days, and complained of feeling badly. This evening while at the dinner table at the Riggs House he was suddenly taken ill, and reached his room with the utmost difficulty. Dr. Sowers was promptly called in, who pronounced the attack a chill of the congestive order and administered the proper medicine, and advised the Speaker to keep quiet for several days, as he was in great need of rest and his nervous system greatly impaired. The illness of Mr. Carlisle will doubtless prevent him from presiding over the House for the next few days, and he may be compelled to give up his trip to Georgia, where he expected to go Saturday to deliver his speech on revenue reform. At 1 A. M. the Speaker was somewhat improved, and the high fever that he had early in the evening had slightly abated.

The Wonderful Prophet.
We publish the following riddle by request, and will wager a ginger cake that not one tenth of the Bible readers can solve it:

"To be seen at West Chester, near New York, a strange and wonderful person, whose generation was before the creation of the world. He was not the wandering Jew, nor the son of Noah, nor the old Levite, nor John the Baptist; for he was certainly before them all."

"The Scriptures make mention of him particularly in St. Mark, St. Luke, and St. John. Who may he be?"

"He never lay upon his mother's breast. His beard is such as no man ever wore. He goes barefooted, like a grave friar. He wears no hat in winter or summer, but often appears with a crown upon his head. His coat is neither red, nor blue, nor yellow, nor green, nor black, nor white. He is neither a tinker nor a peddler. He prefers an humble dwelling to a palace. He is very watchful. He sleeps not in a bed, but sits in a singular kind of a chair, with his clothes on. He was with Noah in the ark, and was alive at the crucifixion."

"Nearly all the time he has been alone. He has a short sword, which he has convinced a man of his sins, and caused him to weep most bitterly. Though he never rides on horseback, he is in some respects equipped as a horseman are. He is an advocate for early rising, though he never retires to bed. His prophecies are such that the moment you hear his voice, you may know what is approaching."

"Now who is this prophet, and what doth he foretell?"

Read The Death Roll

Which the bills of mortality of any large city may be fitly designated, and which the death roll of the pauper colonies, that is to say, those that affect the kidneys or bladder, have a remarkable prominence. Bright's disease and diabetes in the chronic state are rarely cured, and the cataract of the eye is almost incurable, though it may be removed. Yet at the outset, when the trouble merely amounts to inactivity of the organs involved, the danger may be nullified by that pleasant renal tonic and diuretic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which imparts the requisite amount of energy to the organs, and removes the disease of which is congenital, and involves no elaborate preparation. Dyspepsia, a usual concomitant of renal complaints, and debility, which they invariably produce, are remedied by it. So also are constipation, malarial, rheumatic and nervous ailments.

If you expect to make Saws or wedding presents, and desire anything in the jewelry or silverware line, we think we can make it interesting to buy. We have a plan to manufacture good articles and save expenses, and will sell for a very small profit, as we can duplicate them before Xmas. Gold matches and diamonds at prices one can desire. W. H. Stix, the manufacturing jeweler, Hazel Green, Ky., write for prices.

VIRGINIA.
Special Correspondence.]

CEDAR BLUFF, VA., Jan. 12.—Last Friday morning at 4 o'clock the family circle of Robt. S. Wingo was suddenly broken by the death of his wife. She had been ill from Sunday night with fatal disease, brain fever. She suffered much in four days, and in the morning of the fifth, just as the darkness was giving way to the brightness of the day, all that was mortal of Ava Wingo was borne away by the angels. Her body, however, lay in the shade of that glorious day, which knows no night, received its shining crown from her beloved Savior.

A glorious revival of religion is now in progress at this place, conducted by Revs. G. M. Johnson and O. C. Colgan, ten and twelve preachers, and a company of highly gifted. The crises of sickness, the shouts of God's people, and the warning voices of the ministers, made the walking ring, which shook the very windows of heaven, and God's presence was felt. Only did the audience perceive that "God hath power on earth to forgive sin." The meeting will continue.

The railroad is opening up afresh;

the citizens of Frenchburg and Men's fee county, who in turn ought to give it a healthy and hearty support. The mountain people, we regret to say, do not take the interest in county papers they should, if they wish to build up the country, but we hope they may soon learn to do so. Here's success to the Courier, and prosperity to its proprietors.

GRAND OPENING

For Fall and Winter Requisites!

AT S. M. BRAUN'S FAMOUS NEW STORE!

MOUNT STERLING, KY.

New Goods!

Low Prices!

DEY GOODS
LADIES' FURNISHING GOODS,
COLORED DRESS GOODS, PLAIN PLAID, AND STRIPED TRICOTADS, all colors, ELEGANT LINE OF LADIES' AND MISSES'
NEW MARKETS AND CLOAKS, HOSIERY, GLOVES,
PLAID SILK, all prices and all qualities.
SHAWLS, SHIRTS, BLANKETS,
JERSEYS, ETC.

Unusual inducements in every department in my immense establishment. After spending several days in the market, I have selected the pieces that touch every pocket and catch every eye. I am prepared to show you goods and prices that are without precedent in this city. My reputation as the leader of low prices shall be unrivaled this coming winter, as every department is filled with new goods, and at prices that will sell them.

UNDERWEAR.

I am starting this season with over 1,000 dozen of all the staple and standard makes of Merino, Cashmere, Camel's Hair, etc., and will retail single garments for ladies, men and children for less than other and smaller dealers in this town have to pay jobbers for similar qualities.

New Goods!

Low Prices!

CLOTHING, FINE SHIRTS, OVERCOATS,
ENGLISH MELTONS, DIAGONALS, WOOLSTERS, AND COKEBURN SUITS, HAND MADE BOOTS & SHOES,
Of all descriptions.
MEN'S, BOYS' & CHILDREN'S HATS AND CAPS OF ALL KINDS, TRUNKS AND VALISES, COMPANIONS, ETC., ETC.

New Goods! Low Prices!

I - WANT - YOUR - PATRONAGE!

BALDRIDGE-HOGAN SAW CO.,
Manufacturers of Best English Steel Circular and Long

Also Dealers in Files, Gunners, Swages, Emery Wheels, LEATHER and CURE BELTING.

Our Circular Saws stand unrivaled in quality and workmanship, toughness and elasticity of temper and quality of steel. Also a full line of French Brand Saws in stock of our own importation.

LARGE CIRCULAR SAWS A SPECIALTY.

Work fully warranted and at Rock Bottom Prices. Send for Price List with Best Discounts.

7 Vine and 861 Water Streets, CINCINNATI, O.

All orders sent to J. T. & F. Day, Hazel Green, Ky., for new work, or saws for repair, will be promptly forwarded to us, and will have our best attention.

myself

J. T. & F. DAY.

HAZEL GREEN, KENTUCKY.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

Largest Stock. Lowest Prices.

Heavy invoices arriving daily, and stacks upon stacks of goods to meet every department of trade.

Live Stock, Country Produce and School Claims received in trade on notes, accounts or merchandise.

A Young Wife Said to her Husband,

"My dear, I dreamed last night that you were an Angel. What is that a sign of?"

"A foul stomach," was his impotent answer.

People have not been in the highest of jollifications, and awake feeling as though they had had no rest, nerves all unstrung, wondering "What on earth is the matter with me?" would better take some simple treatment in TIME. Persons will neglect themselves, and put off treatment until their health is gone.

What would you think of the authorities of a great city with its miles of sewerage to take away the filthy accumulations of streets and alleys allowing the sewage to "choke up" and spread contagion and poisonous gases from decaying matter to blight that city by disease? Yet your course is just UNWISE. The human body is a temple that is built to last, to care for, to cultivate, to "house" and you allow it accumulate and decompose, bringing all manner of ills to the flesh. An old Chinese proverb says, "Keep your feet warm, your head cool and your bowels open." Make a memorandum of this and try it, and if you don't keep well there is no truth in the world.

CALVERT'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS

Will do the business for you. Sold and guaranteed by J. T. & F. DAY, Hazel Green, Ky., J. M. PIEATT & BRO., Eliz., Ky., J. N. VAUGHN, Campion, Ky., And all General Stores in Eastern Kentucky.

NEW, FRESH AND CLEAN GOODS.

I am now receiving New Goods, and my stock of General Merchandise is now complete, consisting of Dry Goods, Novelties, Ladies' and Gents' Boots and Shoes, Hats and Caps, Quinewares, Hardware, Groceries, Drugs, Saddlery, and a variety of articles too numerous and too tedious to mention.

I propose to sell them Cheaper for Spot Cash than ever before known in this market.

Call on me, and you can Save Big Money. I'll divide profits with you.

G. B. SWANCO.

C. W. HOWE, WHOLESALE DEALER IN KENTUCKY: WHISKIES
and Mountain Brandy,
Main Street, : : : MT. STERLING, KY.

FRANKLIN TYPE

FOUNDRY,

105 Fine Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

ALLISON & SMITH.

The type on which this paper is printed is from the above foundry.—EDITION HERALD.

HAZEL GREEN HERALD.
Subscription, $1 a Year,
Money to accompany the Name.

SPENCER COOPER, : : EDITOR.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.:
FRIDAY, : January 20, 1888.

People who have been accustomed to reading of the wonderful resources of the mountain counties, have doubtless many times wondered why they are placed in the paper list, and people who have read of the wonderful blue-grass section as a stock raising country, have been led to believe that there was to be found the finest horses and mules in the world. Proof herewith produces shows the latter to be a delusion. We confess that for a long time we labored under the hallucination, but from time to time have tried to impress upon our people the importance of raising a better grade of stock. In an humble way we have endeavored to point out to them our advantages, over the blue-grass country, for raising fine stock. It will appear from reading the following, taken at random from the report of the Board of Equalization issued for the year 1887, that our advice has been taken. Wolfe county raised and reported to the assessor for 1887 a better class of horses by $6.48 per head than Bourbon county, and Owsley county raised and reported to the assessor a better class of horses than did Montgomery, the difference in favor of the former county being $12.33 per head. Now, if these reports are made upon a proper estimate, and we presume they are, for every horse must wear to the value of his stock, it is clearly demonstrated that the pauper mountain counties produce a better grade of stock than the pampered counties of the blue grass, which if systematically pursued will soon relieve us of the stigma of pauperism.

On the other hand, if the reports are not correct, somebody has resorted to perjury and helped to make us paupers. If pauper counties pay more tax than those reported prosperous, the reason of our poverty is apparent. Read this table. The left column represents the pride of the State, and the column on the right indicates "we paupers":

	Assessed Value.	Assessed Value.
Bourbon.....	$48.12	Wolfe.....	$4.60
Scott.....	48.24	Letcher.....	54.14
Jessamine.....	48.52	Magnolia.....	50.67
Marion.....	47.74	Harlan.....	63.35
Morgan.....	48.42	Lee.....	52.45
Montgomery.....	45.63	Lincoln.....	55.03
Bath.....	39.45	Mefenee.....	41.02
Clark.....	39.39	Morgan.....	51.45
Shelby.....	41.10	Owsley.....	58.01
Mason.....	43.53	Breathitt.....	51.45

Again, if the assessors and the citizens in those counties complied with the law, Pike county will henceforth be looked upon as the finest mule-producing county in the State, for we find that she raised and reported to the assessor a class of mules valued at $75.39 per head, while Bath county did not produce any above the average of $40.28, a difference of $35.11 in favor of the Pike product. Thus it will be seen that a mule produced in a pauper county is worth nearly as much as two raised on blue grass, and that the pauper county therefore pays nearly twice as much tax, in proportion to the number raised, as the pampered county. Now, with charity for all and malice toward none, we assume that the assessor's report in all these counties was on the swindling statements of the stock-raiser, which shows the pauper counties to be the producers of the finest stock. Their stock men of the State should locate here. But, if somebody has lied, then the reason of our poverty is plain, and we hope those papers which are continually crying out "pauper counties," will tell the reason why. Here is the maleable table:

	MILES.
Bourbon.....	$5.42	Wolfe.....	$5.60
Southeast.....	63.16	Magnolia.....	13.13
Madison.....	54.16	Harlan.....	57.73
Morgan.....	54.54	Lee.....	68.40
Mercer.....	60.92	Floyd.....	34.57
Montgomery.....	62.77	Lee.....	52.45
Bath.....	59.71	Lincoln.....	52.45
Clark.....	46.71	Morgan.....	53.65
Shelby.....	50.50	Pike.....	76.59
Mason.....	52.20	Owsley.....	64.92
Nicholas.....	47.34	Breathitt.....	53.70

We are in receipt of the first number of the Pineville Messenger, with Edwin C. COLGAN as editor and manager. It is chock full of news of that section, and we clip very largely from it this week, for which we hope Col. COLGAN will pardon us. It is the first whack we have had at a Bell county paper, and its contents were really so tempting that we could not forego the pleasure. He may draw on THE HERALD, however, for any amount he wishes, and we will thus square accounts.

The Monroe Courier, with Honon & HORNBLAHL at the helm, was launched last Friday, and will fill a long felt want.

to the citizens of Frenchburg and Meno county, who in turn ought to give it a healthy and hearty support. The mountain people, we regret to say, do not take the interest in county papers they should, if they wish to build up the country, but we hope they may soon learn to do so. Here's success to the Courier, and prosperity to its proprietors.

A Washington special says: Speaker Carlisle has not been well for several days, and complained of head-ache badly. This evening while at the dinner table at the Riggs House he was taken suddenly and seriously ill, and reached his room with the utmost difficulty. Dr. Sowers was promptly called in, who pronounced the attack a chill of the congestive order and administered the proper medicine, and advised the Speaker to keep quiet for several days, as he was in great need of rest and his nervous system greatly impaired. The illness of Mr. Carlisle will doubtless prevent him from presiding over the House for the next few days, and he may be compelled to give up his trip to Georgia, where he expected to go Saturday to deliver his speech on revenue reform. At 1 A. M. the Speaker was somewhat improved, and the high fever that he had early in the evening had slightly abated.

The Wonderful Prophet.

We publish the following riddle by request, and will wager a ginger cake that not one tenth of the Bible readers can solve it:

"To be seen at West Chester, near New York, a strange and wonderful character, who, immediately before the creation of Adam. He was not the Wandering Jew, nor the son of Noah, nor the old Levite, nor John the Baptist; for he was certainly before them all."

The Scriptures make mention of him particularly in St. Mark, St. Luke, and St. John. So we may believe that he is no man.

"He never lay upon his mother's breast. His beard is such as no man ever wore. He goes barefooted, like a grave friar. He wears no hat in winter or summer, but often appears with a crown upon his head. His coat is neither knitted nor spun, silk nor hair, linen nor cotton. He is a prophet, and preaches a humble dwelling to a palace. He is very watchful. He sleeps not in a bed, but sits in a singular kind of a chair, with his clothes on. He was with Noah in the ark, and was alive at the crucifixion. Nearly all the world he bears him. He preaches a short sermon, which convinces a man of his sins, and causes him to weep most bitterly. Though he never rides on horseback, he is in some respects equipped as a horseman are. He is an advocate for early rising, though never retires to bed. His prophecies are so true that the moment you hear his voice, you may know what is approaching."

"Now who is this prophet, and what doth he foretell?"

Read The Death Roll

Which the bills of mortality of any large city may be fully designated, and we will find that renal and vesical maladies are in reality, the chief cause of death.

Bright's disease and diabetes in the chronic stage are rarely cured, and gravel, catarrh of the bladder and enuresis, say many.

Yet at the outset, when the trouble merely amounts to inactivity of the organs involved, the danger may be removed by a simple dietetic and diuretic. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which imparts the requisite amount of tone to the organs, without over exciting them, and the use of which is convenient, and involves no elaborate preparation.

Dyspepsia, a usual concomitant of renal conditions, is easily removed, when they are curable, provided they are remedied in time.

Also are constipation, malarial, rheumatic and nervous ailments.

"If you expect to make Xmas a wedding present in the jewelry in the jewelry or silverware line, we think you can make it interesting to buy now. We have plain substantial goods, fancy articles and novelties, and sell at a very small profit, as we can duplicate them. Xmas gifts, watches and diamonds at prices no one can duplicate. Odie W. Sujor, the manufacturing jeweler, Lexington, Ky., writes for prices.

VIIRGINIA.

Special Correspondence—

EARLY DAWN. V. Jan. 12.—Last

Friday morning at 4 o'clock the family circle of Robt. S. Wingo was suddenly broken.

Miss Ava, a bright sweet girl just budding into womanhood, was taken very ill on Sunday night with fatal disease, brain fever. She suffered much in four days, and in the morning of the fifth, just as the new knees were setting way off, the consciousness of a day past, the mortal spirit of Ava Wingo was forsaken by her immortal spirit, basking in the sunshine of that glorious day, which knows no night, received its shining crown from her beloved Savior.

A glorious revival of religion is now in progress at this place, conducted by Rev. G. M. Johnson and Mr. McNeil.

Some day we will give penitents a list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penitents a

list of the names of the dead.

Some day we will give penit

THE HERALD

Has a larger circulation than any paper in Eastern Kentucky than any paper in the State, and merchants and others wishing to secure the trade of Eastern Kentucky, will find IT THE BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

Advertising Rates.

For Trade advertisements, 75 cents an inch first insertion; 25 cents an inch for each subsequent insertion.

STANDING ADVERTISEMENTS.

1 inch, 1 year... $ 5.00 4 inches, 1 year... $15.00
2 inches, 1 year... 9.00 5 inches, 1 year... 17.50
3 inches, 1 year... 12.00 10 months, 1 year... 20.00

Special rates for longer advertisements; notices 5¢ a line, with 5 per cent. for long time.

MARRIAGES and death notices free, tribute of respect and obituaries 5 cents a line.

ANNOUNCEMENTS of candidates for State or District offices, $10; County offices, $5; calls on persons to become candidates for office, 5 cents a line. Payable in advance.

No name will be entered upon the paper, but the insertion book must paid for, and all subscribers are required to give time of payment for notice of which will be indicated by a cross-mark (X) on the margin in front of your name. A prompt renewal only will insure its continuance.

SPENCER COOPER.

GARRISON, HE SELLS CHEAP

HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE,

STOVES,

TINWARE, CUTLERY,

MARONIAL TEMPLE,

MT. STERLING, KY.

HERE AND THERE.

Look out for the Red Cross of paper. It denotes that your time is up, and unless renewed at once the paper will stop sending.

There was no mail came to this place from Mt. Sterling Saturday.

The boys of the Hazel Green Academy have organized a private debating club. Speaking every Friday night.

To every person who will send us $9 in cash and nine subscribers, we will send THE HERALD one year free.

Ira Clark's, the Hockings postman of this town, has secured the contract for reading the new court-house at Campion.

Mrs. Mary Greenwade, of this place, has been confined to her room for two weeks, being too ill to attend to her house-hold duties.

Tom Hall, of this county, was discharged and fined $50 by the Circuit court now in session, for selling his vote at the November election 1886.

Geo. Clegg, recently living in this vicinity, is now located at Grassy, in Morgan county, and we commend him to his new neighbors as worthy of every confidence.

When nature falters and requires help, recruit her unfaded energies with Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

See the new advertisement of "Notice Travellers." People generally will regret that the gentlemen owning the back line are forced to abandon it, but those who know the condition of our roads are aware of the necessity for doing so.

Frequently accidents occur in the household which cause burns, cuts, sprains and bruises; for use in such cases Dr. J. H. McLean's Volcanic Oil Lotion has for many years been the constant favorite family remedy. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

John Campbell, Jr., recently removed from this place to Clark county, where he will make his home on the farm of a Mr. Prewitt. To the latter no recommendation is necessary, but to those who do not know him well, we can say he is an honest, upright citizen, as true as steel to a friend.

Thousands of people suffer with backache, not knowing that in most cases, it is a symptom of diseased kidneys and liver, which plasters and lotions cannot heal. The best and safest remedy is Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

W. E. Childers, of Berry, Harrison county, has been visiting friends here, and returned home Tuesday accompanied by his sister. Mr. Childers expects to make his home, in the future, near our town, and we congratulate the community in the prospect of the addition of so valuable a citizen.

Under exposure to cold winds, rain, bright light or malaria, may bring on inflammation and soreness of the eyes. Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Eye Salve will subdue the inflammation, and soothe the nerves, and strengthen weak and failing eye sight, 25 cents a box. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

Rev. S. X. Swinnea, of Campion, Wolfe county, who has been evangelizing in this country through the last week on his way to Harlan county to take charge of the Mount Pleasant Mission of the Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South. Mr. Swinnea is an honored member of the Art preservative fraternity, and paid the Messenger office a visit during his stay in town.—Pineville Messenger.

Lexington Men You May Tie To.

Geo. Rice, who has just put up the stairway in the handsome new residence of our esteemed fellow citizen, John M. Ross, called at our office and invited us to take a ride with him. We did so, and trammels, which we did on Saturday last. The newel post is black walnut inlaid with white ash, the hand rail is black walnut and the balusters white ash, and the ornamental work is white pine and bamboo, while the steps proper are Michigan white pine. The stairway connects the Lexington and Marion Ky., and shifted to the west of the original building, which cost $22,500 less than a very similar one in the residence of Hon. J. M. Kash cast in Cincinnati. The stairway in the Mrs. Ross's new building is from the well-known firm of E. Bush & Son, papas and brother of our better seventeenth century. They stand at the head of the list for promptness and reliability, and we respectfully commend them to you. We wish to purchase doors, sash blinds, stairways, &c., &c. All who deal with them can save money, and Mr. Rice, who has dealt with them for years, says that no firm in Kentucky or elsewhere is more conscientious and scrupulous here. All who deal with them during the business career of many years share the same thing, and it will therefore be safe for any one of them. If you are thinking of building, send to them for an estimate.

In this connection we wish to call attention to two or three other firms in Lexington with which it would pay the people of the community to deal. We want reliable goods at low prices. C. F. Brower & Co. handle a greater variety of furniture, carpets, wallpaper, window shades, &c., than any house south of Mason & Dixon's line, and will meet Cincinnati prices on every article they sell. Louis & Gus Straus, the leading druggists in the city, have a well-stocked clothing establishment in Eastern Kentucky, and sell clothing and garments furnishing goods at prices which they defy competitors to duplicate, and we bespeak for them a share of your patronage. Ollis Snyder, the jeweler, has a long time since established the fact that, no man in his line of business in Eastern Kentucky can compare with him in quality of goods or low prices, and he is deserving of your patronage.

In conclusion, we think it would pay all the merchants of Lexington to advertise in THE HERALD, and it would then pay the people to patronize them. Never spend money with a man who does not advertise, that is—if you want to buy goods cheap.

Reliable Mt. Sterling Men.

It may not be generally known, but S. M. Braun, of Mt. Sterling, as a jobber has sold more goods since he began to advertise in THE HERALD, than any man in his line of business in Eastern Kentucky, and his trade has steadily increased. He is a man to be depended upon, and his success is his own. He is anxious to have his friends and the business community his friends and are very anxious about him. His physician pronounces it paralysis of the optic nerve. Mr. Nale left yesterday for Cincinnati to consult an eminent oculist. We sincerely hope his affliction is only temporary.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

The hundreds of friends of Rev. Henry N. Lane, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in this city, will bear with regret of the terrible affliction which has overtaken him. Last Saturday he suddenly became totally blind in his right eye, and as the blindness continues his friends are very anxious about him. His physician pronounces it paralysis of the optic nerve. Mr. Nale left yesterday for Cincinnati to consult an eminent oculist. We sincerely hope his affliction is only temporary.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

Any and everything can be expected with new type, first class presses and fine paper, in the hands of skilled mechanics, may be had at this office at less than city prices. It will pay any man in Eastern Kentucky to get his printing at THE HERALD office. Send for estimates, and state exactly what you want.

There has been a protracted meeting at this place at the Christian Church at this time, the work being conducted by Rev. Ezra and Downing. During the services the church received six additions, two by letter and four by baptism. The meeting closed last evening.

Herod Patrik, an influential and respected citizen, of Magoffin county, died at his home at Bloomington, in that county, aged sixty-two years. Sam K. Jones, an irrepressible, gave us the news, but did not tell us the day, or the cause, of his death.

The HERALD and the Weekly Cincinnati Enquirer, one year for $2.00. It is ordered that the two papers be sent to HAZEL GREEN HERALD, of which I am a subscriber. The HAZEL GREEN HERALD is the best local paper in Kentucky or any other State known to me, and I take, and read many of them. Surely the people of Kentucky, and especially North Eastern Kentucky, should liberally patronize that paper. It is an honest and reliable paper, and in which it is located. Wishing you that success you may soon be blessed with railroads, I am yours, WM. LITTLE.

Geo. Spencer, writing from Pullman, Whitman county, Washington Territory, Jan. 3, says: "Mr. Cooper—Dear Sir: I received a copy of THE HERALD, and it gives satisfaction. Send it to me for six months and to John C. Spencer, Cameron, for six months, for which find $1.00. I am writing from Oregon where three or four months. This is the reason for not taking it the full term. I am going to school and don't know that I'll have time to write a letter to you. You seem to think that your country lacks settlers. Well just say one thing, I helped to thresh wheat fall which averaged 10 bushels to the acre, and I never saw a wheelbarrow load of wheat back there. If you want to hear from this country you will have to give me more encouragement."

Our readers will remember that we told Mr. Spencer we feared to publish his letters of the wonders of that country for fear our people would all go out there.—ED.

50¢ to a tree.

The readers of this paper will be interested in knowing that the proprietors of "Warner's Log Cabin Remedies" will pay $71.21 in cash for the best answer to the question, "What is the best medicine that is in the outside of the chimney of the old log cabin, as represented in the trade?" A pamphlet with a price of 10¢ each cabin can be procured at any drug store. The answer must be sent by mail to H. H. Warner & Co., proprietors, Rochester, N. Y., before April 10th, 1882. But one can be sent earlier if the owner will wait. The answer will be considered. It must be given with the real name, giving post-office address and name of one who can be reached.

"Warner's Log Cabin Sarapilla, Warner's Log Cabin Hops and Buchu Pills, Warner's Log Cabin Compound Remedy, Warner's Log Cabin Extract, Warner's Log Cabin Liver Pills, Warner's Log Cabin Root Cream (for the scalp and hair), Warner's Log Cabin Plasters. The answers will be recorded, and the names of the winners will be announced in the next issue.

Give Them A Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the large air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and your lungs which ought not to be there your lungs can not half do their work. And what they do, they can not do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and ear diseases. All of them are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is nothing to be gained by it.

Take Boeschel's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, may depend upon this for certain.

Capt. E. Roberts, with Carter Bros. & Co., wholesale dry goods, Louisville, on his winter tour of the mountains with a fine line of samples, and will visit Pineville shortly. Capt. Roberts is too well-known to the trade to need any introduction or endorsement by the Messenger. He is a veteran of the road and a Napoleonic hero, and his character for fair dealing towers as high as the tallest peaks of the Pine Mountain.—Pineville Messenger.

The HERALD can endorse every word of the above and in all this section who know the Captain, and their name is legion, will vouch for the truth of what the Messenger says. The children love him, the citizens like him, and the merchants buy him in.

The hundreds of friends of Rev. Henry N. Lane, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in this city, will bear with regret of the terrible affliction which has overtaken him. Last Saturday he suddenly became totally blind in his right eye, and as the blindness continues his friends are very anxious about him. His physician pronounces it paralysis of the optic nerve. Mr. Nale left yesterday for Cincinnati to consult an eminent oculist. We sincerely hope his affliction is only temporary.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

Any and everything can be expected with new type, first class presses and fine paper, in the hands of skilled mechanics, may be had at this office at less than city prices. It will pay any man in Eastern Kentucky to get his printing at THE HERALD office. Send for estimates, and state exactly what you want.

There has been a protracted meeting at this place at the Christian Church at this time, the work being conducted by Rev. Ezra and Downing. During the services the church received six additions, two by letter and four by baptism. The meeting closed last evening.

Herod Patrik, an influential and respected citizen, of Magoffin county, died at his home at Bloomington, in that county, aged sixty-two years. Sam K. Jones, an irrepressible, gave us the news, but did not tell us the day, or the cause, of his death.

The HERALD and the Weekly Cincinnati Enquirer, one year for $2.00. It is ordered that the two papers be sent to HAZEL GREEN HERALD, of which I am a subscriber. The HAZEL GREEN HERALD is the best local paper in Kentucky or any other State known to me, and I take, and read many of them. Surely the people of Kentucky, and especially North Eastern Kentucky, should liberally patronize that paper. It is an honest and reliable paper, and in which it is located. Wishing you that success you may soon be blessed with railroads, I am yours, WM. LITTLE.

The indications are that we will have some "soft" weather.

LIVERY, SALE

—AND—

FEED STABLE,

HAZEL GREEN, KY.

HAVING FITTED UP A FEED-CLASS STABLE and provided myself with good stable and harness horses and vehicles, ready to let the public use.

I will feed horses by the single feed, day, week or month, and take pleasure in giving all stock entrusted to my expert attention. I will also board horses and will drive horses to harness for all who desire my services. All charges reasonable and satisfactory guaranteed.

J. G. PIERATT.

CHAPPED HANDS AND FACE,

CUTS, BURNS, SORES, FROST BITE,

TRADE MARK.

DERMATINE.

NO. 9749.

DIPHTHERIA, SKIN DISEASES.

Sold by all Merchants at 25 Cents a Bottle.

If your Store Keeper will not order it, send 30 cents to us, and we will forward it by mail.

CHILES, THOMPSON & CO., Mt. Sterling, Ky.

Jackson Academy

John Jay Dickey, A. M., Principal.

The eight-roomed school of this institution will open MONDAY, J. JAN. 1, 1882.

We are erecting a new building whose architectural beauty and interior completeness have been so universally admired will be repeated.

A corps of COMPETENT TEACHERS will be ready to give instruction in the common school and higher branches, and in music and painting.

Special attention will be given to the training of teachers.

The past record of the school is its best guarantee for its future work.

Board and tuition reasonable.

For full particulars, call upon or address the principal at Jackson, Ky.

MRS. MARY NICKELL'S

SELECT SCHOOL.

TERMS OF TUITION:

Primary Department..... $ 7.25

Intermediate..... 8.50

Languages, &c..... 8.75

Music..... 15.00

Board (per week)..... 1.50

Address MRS. MARY F. NICKELL

Notice, Travelers.

DUING THE WINTER SEASON

AND WHILE THE PEASANTS AND

WE RIDE ON HORSES WE

DO NOT WANT TO GO ON

BY TRAIN OR BY RAILROAD.

WE ARE GOING TO GO ON

BY HORSEBACK.

WE HAVE NO MONEY TO PAY FOR

OUR HORSES.

WE ARE GOING TO GO ON

BY HORSEBACK.

</div

THE HERALD

Has a larger circulation in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky than any paper in the State, and the trade of Eastern Kentucky will secure it THE BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

Advertising Rates.

Transient advertisements, 75 cents an inch first insertion; 25 cents an inch for each subsequent insertion.

SPECIAL ADVERTISEMENTS.

1 sheet, 1 year, $ 5.00 4 inches, 1 year, $15.00
2 inches, 1 year, $ 9.00 5 inches, 1 year, 17.50
3 inches, 1 year, 12.00 6 inches, 1 year, 20.00

Special rates on larger advertisements; local notices $5. a line, with 5 per cent. for foreign insertion.

Marriage and death notices free; tributes of respect and obituaries 5 cents a line.

Announcements of candidates for State or District offices, $10; County offices, $5; calls on persons to become candidates, and their names $5 a line. Payable in advance.

No name will be entered upon the Subscription Book until paid for, and all subscriptions are stopped at expiration time. If you desire to withdraw your name, please indicate by a cross-mark (X) on the margin in front of your name. A prompt renewal only will insure its continuance.

SPENCER COOPER.

GARRISON, HE SELLS CHEAP

HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE,

STOVES,

TINWARE, CUTLERY,

MASONIC TEMPLE, MT. STERLING, KY.

HERE AND THERE.

Look out for the Red Cross on your paper. It denotes that your time is up, and unless renewed at once the paper will stop coming.

There was no mail came to this place from Mt. Sterling Saturday.

The boys of the Hazel Green Academy have organized a private debating club. Speaking every Friday night.

To every person who will send us $9 in cash and nine subscribers, we will send the HERALD one year free.

Ira Clark, the lightning rod man of this town, has secured the contract for rodding the new courthouse at Campion.

Mrs. Mary Greenwade, of this place, has been confined to her room for two weeks, being too ill to attend to her house-hold duties.

Tom Hall, of this county, was disfranchised and fined $50 by the Circuit court in session, for selling his vote at the November election 1836.

Geo. Cecil, recently living in this vicinity, is now located at Grassy, in Morgan county, and we command him to his new neighbors as worthy of every confidence.

When nature falters and requires help, never despair; consult with Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

See the new advertisement of "Notice Travelers." People generally will regret that the gentlemen owning the back line are forced to abandon it, but those who know the extent of our roads are aware of the necessity for doing so.

Frequently accidents occur in the household which cause burns, cuts, sprains and bruises; for use in such cases Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balsam, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

John Campbell, Jr., recently removed from this place to Clark county, where he will make his home on the farm of a Mr. McLean, in that county. His recommendation is necessary, but to those who do not know him so well, we say he is an honest, upright citizen, as true as steel to a friend.

Thousands of people suffer with backache, not knowing that in most cases, it is a symptom of dislocated kidneys, and liver and plasters and lotions cannot heal. The best and safest remedy is Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

W. E. Childers, of Perry, Harrison county, has been visiting friends here, and returned home Tuesday accompanied by his sister. Mr. Childers expects to make his home, in the future, near our town, and we congratulate the community in the prospect of the addition of so valuable a citizen.

Under exposure to cold winds, rain, bright light or malaria, may bring on inflammation and soreness of the eyes. Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Eye Salve will subdue the inflammation, cool and soothe the nerves, and strengthen weak and failing eye sight. 25 cents a box. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

Rev. S. X. Swinney, of Campion, Wolfe county, who has been evangelizing in Menifee, Montgomery and Rowan counties, passed through this town yesterday on his way to Harlan. He is a member of the Moral Pleasant Mission of the Kentucky Conference of the A. M. E. Church. Mr. Swinney is an honored member of the Art preservative fraternity, and paid the Messenger office a visit during his stay in town.—Pineville Messenger.

Lexington Men You May Tie To.

Geo. Rice, who has just put up the stairway in the handsome new residence of our esteemed fellow citizen, John M. Rose, called at our office and invited us to take a look at the fine work and paintings, which we did on Saturday last. The new post is black walnut inlaid with white ash, the hand rail is black walnut and the balusters white ash, and the ornamental work is white pine and bamboo, while the steps proper are made of Michigan white pine. The stairway complete was bought in Lexington for $22.50 less than a very similar one in the residence of Hon. J. M. Kash cost in Cincinnati. The stairway in Mr. Rose's new building is from the well-known firm of F. Bush & Son, paper and brother of our better seventeen twentys. They stand at the head of the list for promptness and reliability, and we especially thank them all who wish to purchase doors, sash, blinds, stairways, &c., &c. All who deal with them can save money, and Mr. Rice, who has dealt with them for many years, says that no firm in Kentucky or elsewhere is more conscientious and scrupulous in their work than the firm of Bush & Son. Marriage and death notices free; tributes of respect and obituaries 5 cents a line.

Announcements of candidates for State or District offices, $10; County offices, $5; calls on persons to become candidates, and their names $5 a line. Payable in advance.

No name will be entered upon the Subscription Book until paid for, and all subscriptions are stopped at expiration time. If you desire to withdraw your name, please indicate by a cross-mark (X) on the margin in front of your name. A prompt renewal only will insure its continuance.

SPENCER COOPER.

GARRISON, HE SELLS CHEAP

HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE,

STOVES,

TINWARE, CUTLERY,

MASONIC TEMPLE, MT. STERLING, KY.

HERE AND THERE.

Look out for the Red Cross on your paper. It denotes that your time is up, and unless renewed at once the paper will stop coming.

There was no mail came to this place from Mt. Sterling Saturday.

The boys of the Hazel Green Academy have organized a private debating club. Speaking every Friday night.

To every person who will send us $9 in cash and nine subscribers, we will send the HERALD one year free.

Ira Clark, the lightning rod man of this town, has secured the contract for rodding the new courthouse at Campion.

Mrs. Mary Greenwade, of this place, has been confined to her room for two weeks, being too ill to attend to her house-hold duties.

Tom Hall, of this county, was disfranchised and fined $50 by the Circuit court in session, for selling his vote at the November election 1836.

Geo. Cecil, recently living in this vicinity, is now located at Grassy, in Morgan county, and we command him to his new neighbors as worthy of every confidence.

When nature falters and requires help, never despair; consult with Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

See the new advertisement of "Notice Travelers." People generally will regret that the gentlemen owning the back line are forced to abandon it, but those who know the extent of our roads are aware of the necessity for doing so.

Frequently accidents occur in the household which cause burns, cuts, sprains and bruises; for use in such cases Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balsam, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

John Campbell, Jr., recently removed from this place to Clark county, where he will make his home on the farm of a Mr. McLean, in that county. His recommendation is necessary, but to those who do not know him so well, we say he is an honest, upright citizen, as true as steel to a friend.

Thousands of people suffer with backache, not knowing that in most cases, it is a symptom of dislocated kidneys, and liver and plasters and lotions cannot heal. The best and safest remedy is Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

W. E. Childers, of Perry, Harrison county, has been visiting friends here, and returned home Tuesday accompanied by his sister. Mr. Childers expects to make his home, in the future, near our town, and we congratulate the community in the prospect of the addition of so valuable a citizen.

Under exposure to cold winds, rain, bright light or malaria, may bring on inflammation and soreness of the eyes. Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Eye Salve will subdue the inflammation, cool and soothe the nerves, and strengthen weak and failing eye sight. 25 cents a box. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

Rev. S. X. Swinney, of Campion, Wolfe county, who has been evangelizing in Menifee, Montgomery and Rowan counties, passed through this town yesterday on his way to Harlan. He is a member of the Moral Pleasant Mission of the Kentucky Conference of the A. M. E. Church. Mr. Swinney is an honored member of the Art preservative fraternity, and paid the Messenger office a visit during his stay in town.—Pineville Messenger.

Geo. Rice, who has just put up the stairway in the handsome new residence of our esteemed fellow citizen, John M. Rose, called at our office and invited us to take a look at the fine work and paintings, which we did on Saturday last. The new post is black walnut inlaid with white ash, the hand rail is black walnut and the balusters white ash, and the ornamental work is white pine and bamboo, while the steps proper are made of Michigan white pine. The stairway complete was bought in Lexington for $22.50 less than a very similar one in the residence of Hon. J. M. Kash cost in Cincinnati. The stairway in Mr. Rose's new building is from the well-known firm of F. Bush & Son, paper and brother of our better seventeen twentys. They stand at the head of the list for promptness and reliability, and we especially thank them all who wish to purchase doors, sash, blinds, stairways, &c., &c. All who deal with them can save money, and Mr. Rice, who has dealt with them for many years, says that no firm in Kentucky or elsewhere is more conscientious and scrupulous in their work than the firm of Bush & Son. Marriage and death notices free; tributes of respect and obituaries 5 cents a line.

Announcements of candidates for State or District offices, $10; County offices, $5; calls on persons to become candidates, and their names $5 a line. Payable in advance.

No name will be entered upon the

Subscription Book until paid for, and all subscriptions are stopped at expiration time. If you desire to withdraw your name, please indicate by a cross-mark (X) on the margin in front of your name. A prompt renewal only will insure its continuance.

SPENCER COOPER.

GARRISON, HE SELLS CHEAP

HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE,

STOVES,

TINWARE, CUTLERY,

MASONIC TEMPLE, MT. STERLING, KY.

HERE AND THERE.

Look out for the Red Cross on your paper. It denotes that your time is up, and unless renewed at once the paper will stop coming.

There was no mail came to this place from Mt. Sterling Saturday.

The boys of the Hazel Green Academy have organized a private debating club. Speaking every Friday night.

To every person who will send us $9 in cash and nine subscribers, we will send the HERALD one year free.

Ira Clark, the lightning rod man of this town, has secured the contract for rodding the new courthouse at Campion.

Mrs. Mary Greenwade, of this place, has been confined to her room for two weeks, being too ill to attend to her house-hold duties.

Tom Hall, of this county, was disfranchised and fined $50 by the Circuit court in session, for selling his vote at the November election 1836.

Geo. Cecil, recently living in this vicinity, is now located at Grassy, in Morgan county, and we command him to his new neighbors as worthy of every confidence.

When nature falters and requires help, never despair; consult with Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

See the new advertisement of "Notice Travelers." People generally will regret that the gentlemen owning the back line are forced to abandon it, but those who know the extent of our roads are aware of the necessity for doing so.

Frequently accidents occur in the household which cause burns, cuts, sprains and bruises; for use in such cases Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balsam, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

John Campbell, Jr., recently removed from this place to Clark county, where he will make his home on the farm of a Mr. McLean, in that county. His recommendation is necessary, but to those who do not know him so well, we say he is an honest, upright citizen, as true as steel to a friend.

Thousands of people suffer with backache, not knowing that in most cases, it is a symptom of dislocated kidneys, and liver and plasters and lotions cannot heal. The best and safest remedy is Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

W. E. Childers, of Perry, Harrison county, has been visiting friends here, and returned home Tuesday accompanied by his sister. Mr. Childers expects to make his home, in the future, near our town, and we congratulate the community in the prospect of the addition of so valuable a citizen.

Under exposure to cold winds, rain, bright light or malaria, may bring on inflammation and soreness of the eyes. Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Eye Salve will subdue the inflammation, cool and soothe the nerves, and strengthen weak and failing eye sight. 25 cents a box. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

Rev. S. X. Swinney, of Campion, Wolfe county, who has been evangelizing in Menifee, Montgomery and Rowan counties, passed through this town yesterday on his way to Harlan. He is a member of the Moral Pleasant Mission of the Kentucky Conference of the A. M. E. Church. Mr. Swinney is an honored member of the Art preservative fraternity, and paid the Messenger office a visit during his stay in town.—Pineville Messenger.

Geo. Rice, who has just put up the stairway in the handsome new residence of our esteemed fellow citizen, John M. Rose, called at our office and invited us to take a look at the fine work and paintings, which we did on Saturday last. The new post is black walnut inlaid with white ash, the hand rail is black walnut and the balusters white ash, and the ornamental work is white pine and bamboo, while the steps proper are made of Michigan white pine. The stairway complete was bought in Lexington for $22.50 less than a very similar one in the residence of Hon. J. M. Kash cost in Cincinnati. The stairway in Mr. Rose's new building is from the well-known firm of F. Bush & Son, paper and brother of our better seventeen twentys. They stand at the head of the list for promptness and reliability, and we especially thank them all who wish to purchase doors, sash, blinds, stairways, &c., &c. All who deal with them can save money, and Mr. Rice, who has dealt with them for many years, says that no firm in Kentucky or elsewhere is more conscientious and scrupulous in their work than the firm of Bush & Son. Marriage and death notices free; tributes of respect and obituaries 5 cents a line.

Announcements of candidates for State or District offices, $10; County offices, $5; calls on persons to become candidates, and their names $5 a line. Payable in advance.

No name will be entered upon the

Subscription Book until paid for, and all subscriptions are stopped at expiration time. If you desire to withdraw your name, please indicate by a cross-mark (X) on the margin in front of your name. A prompt renewal only will insure its continuance.

SPENCER COOPER.

GARRISON, HE SELLS CHEAP

HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE,

STOVES,

TINWARE, CUTLERY,

MASONIC TEMPLE, MT. STERLING, KY.

HERE AND THERE.

Look out for the Red Cross on your paper. It denotes that your time is up, and unless renewed at once the paper will stop coming.

There was no mail came to this place from Mt. Sterling Saturday.

The boys of the Hazel Green Academy have organized a private debating club. Speaking every Friday night.

To every person who will send us $9 in cash and nine subscribers, we will send the HERALD one year free.

Ira Clark, the lightning rod man of this town, has secured the contract for rodding the new courthouse at Campion.

Mrs. Mary Greenwade, of this place, has been confined to her room for two weeks, being too ill to attend to her house-hold duties.

Tom Hall, of this county, was disfranchised and fined $50 by the Circuit court in session, for selling his vote at the November election 1836.

Geo. Cecil, recently living in this vicinity, is now located at Grassy, in Morgan county, and we command him to his new neighbors as worthy of every confidence.

When nature falters and requires help, never despair; consult with Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

See the new advertisement of "Notice Travelers." People generally will regret that the gentlemen owning the back line are forced to abandon it, but those who know the extent of our roads are aware of the necessity for doing so.

Frequently accidents occur in the household which cause burns, cuts, sprains and bruises; for use in such cases Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balsam, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

John Campbell, Jr., recently removed from this place to Clark county, where he will make his home on the farm of a Mr. McLean, in that county. His recommendation is necessary, but to those who do not know him so well, we say he is an honest, upright citizen, as true as steel to a friend.

Thousands of people suffer with backache, not knowing that in most cases, it is a symptom of dislocated kidneys, and liver and plasters and lotions cannot heal. The best and safest remedy is Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

W. E. Childers, of Perry, Harrison county, has been visiting friends here, and returned home Tuesday accompanied by his sister. Mr. Childers expects to make his home, in the future, near our town, and we congratulate the community in the prospect of the addition of so valuable a citizen.

Under exposure to cold winds, rain, bright light or malaria, may bring on inflammation and soreness of the eyes. Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Eye Salve will subdue the inflammation, cool and soothe the nerves, and strengthen weak and failing eye sight. 25 cents a box. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

Geo. Rice, who has just put up the stairway in the handsome new residence of our esteemed fellow citizen, John M. Rose, called at our office and invited us to take a look at the fine work and paintings, which we did on Saturday last. The new post is black walnut inlaid with white ash, the hand rail is black walnut and the balusters white ash, and the ornamental work is white pine and bamboo, while the steps proper are made of Michigan white pine. The stairway complete was bought in Lexington for $22.50 less than a very similar one in the residence of Hon. J. M. Kash cost in Cincinnati. The stairway in Mr. Rose's new building is from the well-known firm of F. Bush & Son, paper and brother of our better seventeen twentys. They stand at the head of the list for promptness and reliability, and we especially thank them all who wish to purchase doors, sash, blinds, stairways, &c., &c. All who deal with them can save money, and Mr. Rice, who has dealt with them for many years, says that no firm in Kentucky or elsewhere is more conscientious and scrupulous in their work than the firm of Bush & Son. Marriage and death notices free; tributes of respect and obituaries 5 cents a line.

Announcements of candidates for State or District offices, $10; County offices, $5; calls on persons to become candidates, and their names $5 a line. Payable in advance.

No name will be entered upon the

Subscription Book until paid for, and all subscriptions are stopped at expiration time. If you desire to withdraw your name, please indicate by a cross-mark (X) on the margin in front of your name. A prompt renewal only will insure its continuance.

SPENCER COOPER.

GARRISON, HE SELLS CHEAP

HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE,

STOVES,

TINWARE, CUTLERY,

MASONIC TEMPLE, MT. STERLING, KY.

HERE AND THERE.

Look out for the Red Cross on your paper. It denotes that your time is up, and unless renewed at once the paper will stop coming.

There was no mail came to this place from Mt. Sterling Saturday.

The boys of the Hazel Green Academy have organized a private debating club. Speaking every Friday night.

To every person who will send us $9 in cash and nine subscribers, we will send the HERALD one year free.

Ira Clark, the lightning rod man of this town, has secured the contract for rodding the new courthouse at Campion.

Mrs. Mary Greenwade, of this place, has been confined to her room for two weeks, being too ill to attend to her house-hold duties.

Tom Hall, of this county, was disfranchised and fined $50 by the Circuit court in session, for selling his vote at the November election 1836.

Geo. Cecil, recently living in this vicinity, is now located at Grassy, in Morgan county, and we command him to his new neighbors as worthy of every confidence.

When nature falters and requires help, never despair; consult with Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

See the new advertisement of "Notice Travelers." People generally will regret that the gentlemen owning the back line are forced to abandon it, but those who know the extent of our roads are aware of the necessity for doing so.

Frequently accidents occur in the household which cause burns, cuts, sprains and bruises; for use in such cases Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balsam, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

John Campbell, Jr., recently removed from this place to Clark county, where he will make his home on the farm of a Mr. McLean, in that county. His recommendation is necessary, but to those who do not know him so well, we say he is an honest, upright citizen, as true as steel to a friend.

Thousands of people suffer with backache, not knowing that in most cases, it is a symptom of dislocated kidneys, and liver and plasters and lotions cannot heal. The best and safest remedy is Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

Geo. Rice, who has just put up the stairway in the handsome new residence of our esteemed fellow citizen, John M. Rose, called at our office and invited us to take a look at the fine work and paintings, which we did on Saturday last. The new post is black walnut inlaid with white ash, the hand rail is black walnut and the balusters white ash, and the ornamental work is white pine and bamboo, while the steps proper are made of Michigan white pine. The stairway complete was bought in Lexington for $22.50 less than a very similar one in the residence of Hon. J. M. Kash cost in Cincinnati. The stairway in Mr. Rose's new building is from the well-known firm of F. Bush & Son, paper and brother of our better seventeen twentys. They stand at the head of the list for promptness and reliability, and we especially thank them all who wish to purchase doors, sash, blinds, stairways, &c., &c. All who deal with them can save money, and Mr. Rice, who has dealt with them for many years, says that no firm in Kentucky or elsewhere is more conscientious and scrupulous in their work than the firm of Bush & Son. Marriage and death notices free; tributes of respect and obituaries 5 cents a line.

Announcements of candidates for State or District offices, $10; County offices, $5; calls on persons to become candidates, and their names $5 a line. Payable in advance.

No name will be entered upon the

Subscription Book until paid for, and all subscriptions are stopped at expiration time. If you desire to withdraw your name, please indicate by a cross-mark (X) on the margin in front of your name. A prompt renewal only will insure its continuance.

SPENCER COOPER.

GARRISON, HE SELLS CHEAP

HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE,

STOVES,

TINWARE, CUTLERY,

MASONIC TEMPLE, MT. STERLING, KY.

HERE AND THERE.

Look out for the Red Cross on your paper. It denotes that your time is up, and unless renewed at once the paper will stop coming.

There was no mail came to this place from Mt. Sterling Saturday.

The boys of the Hazel Green Academy have organized a private debating club. Speaking every Friday night.

To every person who will send us $9 in cash and nine subscribers, we will send the HERALD one year free.

Ira Clark, the lightning rod man of this town, has secured the contract for rodding the new courthouse at Campion.

Mrs. Mary Greenwade, of this place, has been confined to her room for two weeks, being too ill to attend to her house-hold duties.

Tom Hall, of this county, was disfranchised and fined $50 by the Circuit court in session, for selling his vote at the November election 1836.

Geo. Cecil, recently living in this vicinity, is now located at Grassy, in Morgan county, and we command him to his new neighbors as worthy of every confidence.

When nature falters and requires help, never despair; consult with Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

See the new advertisement of "Notice Travelers." People generally will regret that the gentlemen owning the back line are forced to abandon it, but those who know the extent of our roads are aware of the necessity for doing so.

Frequently accidents occur in the household which cause burns, cuts, sprains and bruises; for use in such cases Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balsam, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

John Campbell, Jr., recently removed from this place to Clark county, where he will make his home on the farm of a Mr. McLean, in that county. His recommendation is necessary, but to those who do not know him so well, we say he is an honest, upright citizen, as true as steel to a friend.

Thousands of people suffer with backache, not knowing that in most cases, it is a symptom of dislocated kidneys, and liver and plasters and lotions cannot heal. The best and safest remedy is Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

Geo. Rice, who has just put up the stairway in the handsome new residence of our esteemed fellow citizen, John M. Rose, called at our office and invited us to take a look at the fine work and paintings, which we did on Saturday last. The new post is black walnut inlaid with white ash, the hand rail is black walnut and the balusters white ash, and the ornamental work is white pine and bamboo, while the steps proper are made of Michigan white pine. The stairway complete was bought in Lexington for $22.50 less than a very similar one in the residence of Hon. J. M. Kash cost in Cincinnati. The stairway in Mr. Rose's new building is from the well-known firm of F. Bush & Son, paper and brother of our better seventeen twentys. They stand at the head of the list for promptness and reliability, and we especially thank them all who wish to purchase doors, sash, blinds, stairways, &c., &c. All who deal with them can save money, and Mr. Rice, who

HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

Subscription: $1 a Year,
And Must Be Paid In Advance.

EASTERN KENTUCKY.

WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS ARE DOING.
Compiled by County Correspondents, and Cut and Condensed from Our Contemporaries.

MORGAN COUNTY.

Special Correspondence.]

ZEEL, Jan. 16.—The following students from a school attending Mrs. Mary Niles' Select School in this place: Miss Netta Wheeler, Bell Lyons; James Wells, Noah Lyons, Willie Back, Wellington, Menefee county; L. P. Oakley, Yocom, Morgan county; J. W. Carter, Grassy, Morgan county; W. M. Henry, H. B. Brown, J. D. Whittaker, F. M. Lykins, Lila and Pauline Lykins, Cap Day, Maggie Eliza, Ida Gandy, Anna, Morgan county; W. M. Halesy, Logan Linden Emma and A. J. Walters, Wolfe county; Mary Hyramus, Lee county; Duleene, Lou and Lizzie Hurst, Breathitt county; Sally Nickell, West Liberty, Morgan county.

Robert Bartley opened a coal bank on his farm a few days ago. There is a boom in this neighborhood just now in opening coal banks, the timber is to get sold for the coal, and still the people kick about railroad tax. This is—so economy gone to seed.

Ellie Ann, one of S. D. Goodwin's sick children, of which we wrote last week, is very low, and her recovery is doubtful. The two little boys have about recovered.

The school boys at this place have organized a debating club, and a great big display of eloquence is expected. Speaking Friday night of each week.

Sanford Davis & Co., passed through here last week with a nice lot of mules for the Mt. Sterling market.

Willie Penix, of Frenchburg, who has been up on business passed through here last week on his home.

Peter Faquin, of Elk Fork, passed through here last week with stock for the Mt. Sterling market.

John Ratcliffe, of this place, has been suffering several days with a sun pain in one of his eyes.

W. B. Goad is off on a business trip to Mt. Sterling.

Two of Thomas Walter's children are on the sick list.

Born—On the 8th inst., to the wife of James McGuire, a boy.

W. B. Lykins is attending court at Campton.

BLURT.

MAYTOWN, Jan. 17.—We wish great success to THE HERALD, and think every family should subscribe for it. We are well pleased with the new features in it, and think it second to none in paper for Kentuckian.

R. A. Childers purchased W. B. Carter's farm recently at a fair price. Lucky Dick is always on the look out for bargains, and is the astute man to get them you ever saw.

The Select School at this place is progressing finely. Fifty pupils from all parts of the country are attending daily, and the number increases every week.

Judge Cook, of Hazel Green, and Dr. Holmes, wherever but here, were in town to day, entertaining our citizens with their gags.

We have organized a moral debating society at this place, and it is well attended by citizens of this vicinity.

Wilson B. Carter, near this place, has sold his farm, and will move in a short time to Bath county.

J. B. Blackburn is suite with Warren & Co., druggists, and shoe & leatherellers, Ky., for 1888, and desires to thank his many customers for their liberal patronage in the past and solicits their future orders, which will at all times be promptly filled at lowest prices. Will call on the trade in due time with full line of spring samples. Hold your orders until you see his goods. Headquarters and post office address, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

BEAUMONT COUNTY.

Special Correspondent.]

FROZEN CREEK, Jan. 16.—As we have not seen anything in the dear OLD HERALD for some time from this section, I will try to give you a few items from here, including the general news.

Died—Jan. 9th, Elizabeth Taubee, wife of James P. Taubee. She leaves a husband and several children to mourn her death.

There has been a great many logs hauled in this vicinity, and the timber are awaiting a tide to run them to market.

S. S. Taubee began a school on this creek on the 9th inst., and we hope he will have a good patronage.

Robt. McLin, who has been visiting his brother-in-law, John Day, has left for his home in Virginia.

John S. Hayes left this morning for Ford, Ky., which place he will make his future home.

NAMERLES.

Exposure to rough weather, getting wet, living in damp localities are liable to the contraction of diseases of the kidneys and bladder. As a preventive, and for the cure of all kidney and liver trouble, use that valuable remedy, Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm, $1.00 per bottle. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

LEE COUNTY.

Special Correspondent.]

BEATTYVILLE, Jan. 13.—The young gentlemen and ladies of the Beattyville

High School are making arrangements to publish a paper in the interest of the school, the name of which will be "The Acorn." We wish them success.

The Board of Supervisors, which was in session last week, raised valuation of taxable property in this county about $50,000. This is a larger increase than has ever been made here before.

Capt. J. M. Beatty, of this place, was in Frankfort several days last week, and returned home Wednesday on the boat.

Ben F. Allen returned from Frankfort a few days since. He will move to that place soon.

The steamer Favorite arrived here Wednesday. There were several passengers aboard.

J. H. Flanery has secured a position as traveling salesman for a Winchester house.

H. L. Wheeler, of this place, is attending Circuit Court at Campton this week.

James M. Bowman, of Estill county, was in town one day last week.

Wm. Robinson, of this place, contemplates moving to Ford shortly.

J. K. Roberts and Wm. B. Steel returned from below last week.

Born—To the wife of H. M. Patrick, on the 12th inst., a fine boy.

Jake Howerton, of Morgan county, was visiting here last week.

Stephen Crawford, of Breathitt county, was in town yesterday.

Wm. S. Cole, of Milers Creek, was in town again this week.

Sam Sternberg, of Proctor, is very sick with fever.

Brownlow Jamison returned from Ford Wednesday.

E. M. Pryse returned from Frankfort Wednesday. JOHN HENRY.

Sick headache, wind on the stomach, biliousness, nausea, are promptly and agreeably banished by Dr. J. H. McLean's Little Liver and Kidney Fillets 25 cents a vial. Sold by G. B. Swango, Hazel Green.

MENESEE COUNTY.

Frenchburg Courier.]

It must swell the heart of every Kentuckian with pride to be assured that every blessing possessed or claimed by Alabama or any other State is reproduced by nature and intensified in her own bounds. Our climate is the best for twelve months of the year, and can be found in connection with our resources unparalleled.

The farming capacity of Kentucky is founded on climate and soil, and it is thus richer in variety than any other State possessing great mineral and timber wealth.

Mrs. Leah Power, of our county, who was eighty-one years of age last August, and who is quite stout and able to do all kinds of work, has family consisting of nine sons who are all married, and sixty-nine of them have born to them eighty-three children, the total number in children, grand-children and great-grand-children makes the amount of 160 persons, of which nearly all are now living.

The mountains of Eastern Kentucky are now attracting attention all over the country and the section is right on the course of a big line. This is the reason why a railroad that may be called a sure thing. Put on a broad smile and work things up, for it is coming.

How Jack Smith, of Monroe, Secured His Pension—

A dispatch from Owingsville, (Ky.) to the Cincinnati Enquirer, Jan. 11th, says: There has seldom, if ever, been a more sudden and at the same time deserving instance of elevation from absolute penury and want to a position of affluence than that of Jack Smith, which happened a few days ago.

Smith lives about three miles south of this place. He has a wife and a large family of children, who, report says, have mainly subsisted by the charity of kind neighbors and a few pennies contributed to the father for playing the violin. The poor people would congregate in his neighborhood.

The story of Smith's rise in fortune is not devoid of romantic interest. He had been a soldier in the Federal army and served all through the war. There never was any doubt on the part of those who knew him that he was entitled to a pension from the government, but he had not applied for it, and so died, which destroyed his eyesight while in the service. But, as his service had been with an Illinois regiment, and as Smith was both very poor and illiterate, he had never been able to secure the required proofs, and all his previous efforts to get a pension had been failures. A few days since, however, a gentleman acquainted with the circumstances induced Smith to go to Washington city and present his claims in person, and, being furnished with the necessary funds, he went on to the National Capital on what was generally supposed a fruitless errand. But lo! we should find Smith in the company of his pension agent in the pension office. From this on Smith had but little difficulty in establishing his identity and perfecting his claims to the pension which had been due him for years, and immediately returned to his lowly abode laden with wealth far beyond his wildest dreams, being allowed the sum of $10,973 as back pay, $20 a month for the rest of his life.

Smith is apparently not over forty-five years old, and from all outward appearances, will live many a year to enjoy Uncle Sam's munificence.

Magistrates can get blank Warrants Executions, and Replevin Bonds at this office at 25 cents per quire. Sent by mail on receipt of price.

Timber & Lands WANTED.

WANTED—For an English Syndicate—large tracts of Kentucky, at LOWEST WILD LAND PRICES. Must be accessible to Railroad or good floating and navigable water.

TIME MUST BE PERFECT.

Give full particulars.

BUSHROD C. WASHINGTON,

Lock Box 49 Charlestown, W. Va.

1888.

HAZEL GREEN ACADEMY.

The Ninth Term Begins MONDAY, Jan. 2, 1888, and ends FRIDAY, May 18, 1888.

New, clean, large, well-ventilated buildings, furnished with new improved school furniture.

Full Corps Competent Teachers.

Tuition, Board and Incidental Expenses Reasonable.

For further information call on or address

Hazel Green Academy Co.,
Hazel Green, Wolfe county, Ky.

TRADERS DE OSIT BANK,

MT. STERLING, KY.

J. M. BIGSTAFF, President.

W. W. THOMSON, Cashier.

DIRECTORS.

JAMES CHORN. ANDREW FEPLER
DR. R. R. DRAKE. J. T. HIGHLAND.
M. M. DRAPER.

WARREN & CO.

Manufacturers and Wholesale Dealers in

Boots AND Shoes,

No. 611 Main Street, 10 Summer St., Louisville, Ky. | Boston, Mass.

Represented by J. B. Blackburn.

D. LANCELL'S ASTHMA AND CATARRH REMEDY.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Having struggled for years between life and death with ASTHMA or CATARRH, treated by eminent physicians, and receiving no benefit, I was compelled during the winter of 1877-78 to go to the South Sea Islands, where I found a complete cure. My sufferings were beyond description. In despair I experimented upon myself by compounding roots and herbs in the medicine cabinet of my hotel, and thereon evolved this WONDERFUL CURE FOR ASTHMA AND CATARRH, warranted to relieve the most stubborn cases of ASTHMA AND CATARRH, and to cure the disease in a few days. The patient can lie down to rest and sleep comfortably. Please read the following condensed extracts from uncollected testimonials, all recent date:

"I had the Remedy all, and even more than represented. I receive instantaneous relief." E. M. Carson, A. M. Warren, Kan., writes:

"With great difficulty I obtained the Remedy in Germany, tried the climate of different States—nothing afforded relief like your preparation."

"I have suffered with Asthma 40 years." Your medicine in 3 minutes does more for me than the most eminent physician did for me in three years.

"C. Plimpton, Joliet, Ill., writes: 'Send Catarrh Remedy at once. Cannot get along without it. I find it to be the most valuable medicine I have ever used.'

"We have many other hearty testimonials of cure or relief, and in order that all sufferers from Asthma, Catarrh, Hay Fever, and kindred diseases may have an opportunity of obtaining the Remedy, I will send it to any address in the United States FREE OF CHARGE. If your druggist fails to supply it, please write to me and I will send it to you."

"Write me your name and address plainly.

Address, J. ZIMMERMAN & CO., Prop., Wholesale Druggists, Worcester, Wayne Co., Ohio. Post Box 100. Send me $1.00 money

ONE + DOLLAR

FOR

39-CENTS-39

We will put on sale the best value in an

UNLAUNDRIED SHIRT,

Ever offered in Lexington.

A White Shirt at 39 Cents.

We have and can show you more Overcoats than all the clothing houses in Lexington together, and at prices that will astonish you.

Louis & Gus Straus, LEADING CLOTHIERS,

Lexington, Ky.

C. F. BROWER & CO.

Christmas & Announcement!

In anticipation of the usual demand for Christmas and Holiday Goods, We have recently purchased an immense line of NOVELTIES for each of our

5 FIVE DEPARTMENTS 5

These goods we are just opening, and will now

SHOW FOR THE FIRST TIME.

We have added a New Department for the especial display of ART GOODS, including a handsome line of Bronzes, Bisques, Vases, Figures, Busts, &c. Just the things for appropriate and acceptable presents.

C. F. BROWER & CO.,
CARPETS, FURNITURE, WALL PAPER, DRAPERY, ART GOODS,

Main and Broadway, LEXINGTON, KY.